

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Can only text/recieve texts/call/recieve calls on WI-Fi

Winterjet - September 16, 2015, 3:53 pm

Basically my parents disabled my phone because I cut lunch and since my school is starting to be strict as fuck I got caught. So the catch is, I can only text/recieve texts on iMessage and not regular text messages and only when I'm on WI-Fi. I also can't call/receive calls and it doesn't work even if I'm on WI-Fi.

Is there honestly any way to bypass this? Restoring phone to an earlier time maybe? I'm not sure, +1 to whoever helps!

tron - September 16, 2015, 11:30 pm

Just get a voip app and make wifi calls from that; or just go out and get a prepaid phone.

Winterjet - September 17, 2015, 1:04 pm

My cellular service is basically disabled, is there any way I can enable it though?

Sunstrikes - September 17, 2015, 1:06 pm

I had this problem I paid a local phone shop £10 ($15) to fix this on my iPhone 5, unless you purchased this phone pre-owned then it might be blocked by the carrier because it's stolen or contract might have been cancelled. Hope I helped. ?

angrymcdouble - September 18, 2015, 9:01 pm

Sunstrikes you're wrong lol

OP, your parents most probably disabled your line with the carrier, I guess they aren't paying it too. You should call your carrier and re enable it, but your parents would be charged again. Your move lol

?lex - September 19, 2015, 12:48 am

What angrymcdouble told you. It's the carrier that cut you from their services. Assuming you're a minor, you can't do anything about it.

Why don't you get a new SIM card?