

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Getting blocked when searching or accessing search result threads.

Marko - September 19, 2015, 6:16 am

Title says all, if I search for something I sometimes get

"[403 Forbidden Error] - You might be blocked by your IP, Country, or ISP. We also block VPN's, proxies, datacenters and socks."

This also happens when I get the results and try to enter a thread from the search result.

My country afaik is not blocked since I can access the rest of HF easily, it's just the search section which gives me this problem.

Regards

J?son - September 19, 2015, 6:18 am

Works fine for me. ?

1tap - September 19, 2015, 6:19 am

I think you need to contact omni about this.

Jackie Chun - September 19, 2015, 9:19 am

The subforum searches don't work, you have to manually go to search at the top then select your section. I already made a thread about this and the owner confirmed in next update it'll be fixed.

Wrong section btw

Edit: wow that was fast.

Omniscient - September 19, 2015, 9:46 am

Are you running any plugins which might hijack search results? Or are you using any proxies for connecting? Which browser?

Marko - September 20, 2015, 6:52 am

(Sep 19, 2015 09:46 AM)Omniscient Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Are you running any plugins which might hijack search results? Or are you using any proxies for connecting? Which browser?

I am using Chrome and so far the only Plug In I have is the MOZ Bar which pulls out Domain Authority from pages (for SEO work) I don't have any other plugins. And that is mostly disabled.

Sometimes the entire search.php doesn't open:

Sometimes the search works, thread opens but the pictures don't for example like this thread I've searched from 2014:

BUT if I click anything from the same window, like for example User CP, it will still display the same message, or if I click on the logo to bring me back on HomePage. Again it will say the same message. However if I refresh the site it won't display the blocked Message.

Testing now on Firefox.