Thread: [Omnicoins Testing \[OMC BOUNTY\]](#)

Omniscient - September 19, 2015, 8:03 pm

I need people to help me test the functionality of the Omnicoins Address page.

<https://hackforums.net/coins.php>

I have deleted all the addresses already confirmed except for a few of my own.

All l33t/ub3r will get 100 OMC sent to their first OMC address they sign and add to their account.

The page appears to be functioning very well. I spent a couple days on this. The plugin originally wasn't up to my standards and so I had to tear it apart a bit.

So please help me test this.

Thanks to ?eshCollider for his help in getting the plugin functions for the signing to work.

Is the OMC addition automatic Omniscient? Might as well give it a try. Thanks for making this.

Yes, it should be automatic. Part of the functionality I want to test.

Haven't tried this before but how do you add OMC addresses to the account? Supposed to be in signature right? Is there a thread on it?

EDIT: Got it.

brian188246 - September 19, 2015, 8:10 pm

Just added mine, it seems the balances are showing 0, regardless of actual balance. Adding the address went smoothly though

-Edit-

Seems to be showing now

Paul Wilson - September 19, 2015, 8:11 pm

I would love to do this but there is no omnicoins-qt version for linux ;(

I added my address and it went very smooth. Works great. ?

Stapleton - September 19, 2015, 8:12 pm

Just went ahead and added my address Omniscient. :D

Omniscient - September 19, 2015, 8:14 pm

Looks to be working pretty good so far. I see the 100 OMC going to each of the accounts.

The balances don't immediately update. Still working on the best methods of updating them.

Brendan - September 19, 2015, 8:18 pm

I haven't synced my Wallet in months, which may be why the balances aren't showing.

Other than MeshCollider's version of the OMC Wallet, there is Bittrex.

I'll be adding like 10 dollars worth of OMC here soon. Glad to see this coming to use.

You can use Omnicha.in or Bittrex.

Omnicha.in is your best bet. You can only use Omnicha.in and the OMC wallet you download to your desktop to use this feature.

That's already there. What's next is OMC on postbit. Still working on how to best execute that but I have an idea.

The way the plugin was written is less than optimal. I had to large portions of it for efficiency.

ZeroOne - September 20, 2015, 4:53 am

It looks fine for me as well but it takes some time to update on the page itself doesn't it? I have received the coins and they got confirmed on my wallet.

Thanks for working on new things Omni and thank you ?eshCollider for your help and effort in this.

You can add more than one OMC address to your profile and they don't get deleted. There is no point in doing this if members can delete their address.

I added the top 10 balances. Your OMC info is now directly on the coins page. I also added the last 10 signed addresses. I corrected a lot of inefficient code and had to redo all the templates. I have standards for what I want in plugins here. It's partially why I very rarely add 3rd party plugins. Most are written poorly without care to a site that has a 40Gb database.

I sent Meshcollider a PM with a lot of MyBB tips for him. He's still learning.

I think a link to coins.php should be added to the Extras page.
