Viktor gave me a copy to review and I wanted to leave my remarks on how much of a wonderful product this is.

Review

Design: 9/10

I could not be happier with such a unique and smooth UI. The checker is flawless and has been built to the tee by Viktor himself.

Compatibility: 10/10

The product is capable of checking many platforms that I have never used before, but now with using this checker I think I will be trying out some of these websites to grab some OG names. The checker is going the distance by helping me get into new OG games (Spotify, Reddit.)

Features: 10/10

This checker has the capability to smoothly move the usernames from the world lists I have and get me checking almost instantly.

Summary

I think this product is a great buy for anyone looking for a checker to grab some sweet names. Best price on the market, and best bang for your buck. For the price, you get all these sweet features with a sleek design and some dang great back end support by Viktor.

Heck, I even added a screenshot of how well this works. This was almost instant. I can always know when usernames are available now.

I agree, but it stops complaining from customers. This is a really easy kind of program to maintain so I'm 99.99% not going to dump this or get rid of it as a product. It's not like this is a crypter or something that requires constant attention and will suffer from an owner who isn't available to update it.

On another note, thank you for your kind words, I do appreciate them.

For sure bro i know just saying i think that can hurt your lifetime sales. Just trying to help.

You know its a easy update if one of the systems break, well long as the site doesn't have a huge update and it fkes u but again its still 1 system out of a ton. I know it took some work to make it work for all the sites. I hope ya the best with sales.

It really is annoying, and it's a niche market. I could have easily charged $50 for a copy, but my sales would be substantially less as a result. Even though it has more functionality and websites, it doesn't make it worth $50. I won't name the competitors but they each charge $50 for lifetime.

Unfortunately not, but I feel that it's common sense that some of the most "OG" handles are already taken or banned. There was no way for me to implement a way to check for banned usernames without seriously hindering the speed of the checker.

How good is it with YouTube? YouTube has a few different type of "Name not found (etc)" errors. Some allow you to take that username others do not. I have my own way of checking for open yt names but it takes a min and does not require a tool. I have used MANY online name checking tools and 99% of them throw false errors because youtube shows its not attached to an account. Can I beta test this or something for my own private use? I am very interested and would like to test many names (non og) just random names and things I have found with random errors.

Is anyone interested in purchasing ownership of OmniChecker? I'd be glad to sell it for a reasonable price.
