I am too broke to use Netflix so I "Crackle and Chill" with some girls but they end up leaving the moment I open the app...

Any idea on how I can fix this shit up ?

My childhood just caught fire and died reading this.

Question if you had 3 bananas who would give them to?
If there was one thing you could have when you woke up tomorrow what would it be?
If you had 25$ that you had 2 hours to spend what would you go buy?
Favorite food?
Favorite color?
Birthstone?
Favorite time of day?
What would you do if you turned the corner and there was a big ass big foot and he was looking right at you?
What do you thing the world needs more of?
Favorite drink?
If you where going on a journey through space what or who would bring besides like food and shit?
Any celebs with styles you would copy?
Do you think Crispr-Cas9 is the new op/new God?
What is one thing you'd never want to do again?
Favorite thing to do with friends?
5 worst fears (less if you don't that many)?
Do you think we're the best (????) ??? (of course you do right? right?!!!!?i (????))
Do you like potatoes?
Food you hate the most?
Favorite song?
Favorite type of music?

If you could have one superpower what would it be?

That's all for now.

No that's perfect excellent answers (although answering "me, myself and i" is >_>)

Let us clarify a few things:

Birthstones are based on the month you are born so you can just google it.

Crispr-Cas9 isn't a person, it is the dna editing technique of the future, it can edit the DNA of any organism and any gene. It costs less than 1% of other DNA editor and doesn't require any special training to use (you can literally buy the enzymes for $30 and use google and learn to use it) it has superior accuracy apparently too. In a some years they'll be able to use it cure HIV/cancer/hereditary diseases in people (they can already remove HIV from human cells and prevent them from being reinfected at a 90% rate) it's just currently not ready for that.
