Thread: On a scale of 1 to 10, how lonely do you feel?

Lynchings - September 21, 2015, 2:43 pm

I'm curious as to how lonely the community of HackForums feels on a daily basis? When I say loneliness I mean the state of mind. For example, you can be surrounded by people and still feel very lonely. The poll will be anonymous, but if you want to you can share how lonely you feel in a response.

xeonx - September 21, 2015, 2:43 pm

But there is no poll? I hef no friends

edit: now its up

I'm not lonely bruh, i got lots of friends m9.

Trisomy 21 - September 21, 2015, 2:45 pm

Sometimes I feel lonely because I know I am more important than everybody around me, but I can alleviate those feelings by engendering emotional pain in my friends.

420 Blaze It - September 21, 2015, 2:46 pm

I feel lonely because they're too immature for me.

BigEmpty - September 21, 2015, 2:46 pm on a scale of 1 - 10 i would say 7 or 8

stdio - September 21, 2015, 2:56 pm

We are not normal people, most of us are lonely as fuck. What makes you think 15 year olds join a community where taboos are practiced. Half the HF agrees with me (see poll results so far) :)

Sometimes it just makes me feel even more alone to be high alone though, it just depends on the day really.

Grimeta - September 21, 2015, 3:14 pm

Do you think it's possible to kinda get used to being lonely and not give a fuck?

I'm very lonely for about 10 years now. I used to be depressed and even cry myself to sleep at nights (true story).

About 2 years ago I stopped giving a fuck and embraced my solitude.

Yuikoro - September 21, 2015, 3:16 pm

I'm happy about my loneliness more than I'm not. I like to hang out in generally deserted areas on my break so I can, alone, feel the constant breeze and peace of silence in solitude.

I put myself at a 9 over a 10 because I do occasionally wish to be more outgoing and the like but I know it's a choice of one or the other. I also have friends I talk to through the Internet (more than I interact with them in real life) so I'm not at a 100% outcast-introvert level.

I would say a 10, mostly by choice. Some, not by choice. The alone even with people feeling sucks, and is because you cannot relate to them usually. While I can relate to most people, most cannot relate to me.

If I'm just helping them I still do. If I'm engaging in conversation that's not just question-answer, I don't.

The alone even with people feeling is how I feel a lot of the time. It's awful because no matter how many people are around you, you just feel so empty like something is missing. Honestly, I crave a deep human connection.

Slippin' Jimmy - September 21, 2015, 5:15 pm

Im a solid 9, besides my family, my twin brother, and my co-workers i just sit at my house all day.

Sometimes its bad when i tell my parents im going to a friends house... but im really just going to a restaurant to sit there to make them feel like i have friends.

Its depressing sometimes but i try not to think about it lol. Im 19, im sure it will get better out of college.

I love when my parents ask me questions about old friends that I hate now because they stabbed me in the back or just became people I don't want to associate myself with anymore and I have to act like I know what's going on in their life, when in reality I couldn't care less.

the problem is their are too many numbers that are accurate all at the same time. Averaging them diminishes it, and wouldn't be right anyway, and we didn't average them to get 1. I just took my personal number and stuck it their.

id say 7. what's worse is the stage I'm at in my life I'm supposed to be surrounded by intellectuals who should take a stand against important world issues and politics. instead it's the opposite.. it's fucking twitter and celebritys and all that bullshit. it's bread and circus. the matrix i call it. a lotta people are asleep in it and the people I'm super cool with aren't. but i will part ways with those ppl sooner or later. I've accepted at this point ill always be under the radar and just not so embedded in social circles. so it might get worse or it might not. until then, I'm gonna roll this blunt up and zone out to some tunes.
