

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Resizing multiple images

Fortnite - September 22, 2015, 9:17 am

Really need help with this. Ive imported 1000+ properties via xml feed to my site but the images are too small for the theme galery and it looks terrible. I need to know how I can resize all the images at once either via the XML feed URL or on the wordpress media tab. Any suggestions ?

focuss - September 22, 2015, 5:15 pm

A link to your website would be great.
This can probably doing using CSS.

Fortnite - September 23, 2015, 5:49 am

Hey Focuss.. Im about to pm you buddy. You've helped me in the past with Contact Form 7 :) .

Up In The Smoke - September 23, 2015, 9:53 am

I don't know but I just typed into google "resize all images wordpress" and got this. There may be more to your liking, google maan, google.

Fortnite - September 23, 2015, 10:02 am

(Sep 23, 2015 09:53 AM)Unruly Soul Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I don't know but I just typed into google "resize all images wordpress" and got this. There may be more to your liking, google maan, google.I have tried this plugin and many others prior to posting this :(

Squito - September 24, 2015, 12:22 pm

Well if it's installed you can try PHP's Imagick extension, also if there is a big difference between the source size and expected size you won't get good quality, no matter what you use.