Isn't this like the third time this has happened?

AppleNooby - September 25, 2015, 10:33 am

Their anti cheat sucks ass anyway

Dreadnote - December 3, 2016, 7:25 am yo the link doesnt work anyone got this and want to share?

video_error - December 3, 2016, 10:54 am

I've had this forever. I have a half a gigabyte of dirt on Mineplex that a certain user has given me. It has a couple of highly confidential plugins and doxes on staff that I haven't even cared to look through. But the biggest things are of course the plugins which are legit last time I flipped through them and some notes on the developers which scream corruption. I believe I also have one of the latest versions of the Hive AntiCheat included aswell. I dont really care to leak either as I'm not a leaker. If you look hard enough and know the right people these things are not hard to find. This is hardly surprising. Furthermore your link doesn't work

The giant leak folder full of doxes and IP's:

More of the folder:

The plugin jar files:

And arguably the most valuable, the source:

GG dude! Lol that's a huge fuckup. I must ask why they where storing sources on Dropbox. That's stupid in and of it's self. I greatly prefer Bitbucket for nice looking GUI and infinite free repositories. They should at least use a private repo for code. That's highly stupid unless it was minor snippets of code.

Massive fuckup indeed. Well, it is Mineplex. Am I wrong to say that most of the staff members are basically kids? Maybe not the devs, they're probably older, I don't know.

I dunno there's probably a couple doxes on the devs on my leak I can flip through tonight. I really don't enjoy doxing and do not support it however, I wouldn't mind seeing if I can find some ages. And yes most of them are indeed kids. From what I saw from the doxes they seem to be kids. I really don't care for doxing I think it's shitty. Especially to young kids who are just playing a dumb block game.

How much for you to give me all of this? I'm not into Malicious activities, I'm just very curious in the plugins and what makes mineplex corrupt.

Not for sale. I was entrusted with it. It's an un-leaked leak that I promised to never leak. I don't intend to sell it or give it away. What I can tell you is that it's nothing horribly surprising. Tons of things confirmed that we already knew regarding corruption and shady staff activities.

I'm not into Doxing people who haven't did anything to me but that's something to think about I guess.

Assuming far as I can tell they work for free because it's the world's largest server, who wouldn't want to spend 6 hours a day there(Hint: Not me.)? I highly doubt the trainees and mods are getting paid, maybe the head mods or admins. I'm pretty sure the admins get paid. Why pay em if they'll work for free emerite gies?
