Thread: Pirates Official Recruitment #3

eCoLoGy - September 25, 2015, 7:55 am

Note: This recruitment is opened for the next 5 days only. After that, I'll close it and keep it like that for some days/weeks, in order to get things organized with the new members.

Pirates, is a group of adventurers who sail the Seven Seas in pursuit of great knowledge of any type and friends from any kind.

Description: This is the Official Recruitment Thread of the Pirates Group.

If you want to be part of it, you can make your application here and wait to see if you get accepted or not.

Alternative: If you want to join Pirates just to wear the userbar, if you're lazy to make the application or even if you made the application but you were not accepted then you can buy a lifetime membership position.

Buy-ins will be limited and members that decide to go with a buy-in will still need to be approved by the Owner and Leaders.

You can find all the buy in information here: IN A FEW MONTHS

Application Requirements: No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports.

No LQP or Harassment Warnings.

No trolling or flaming other members.

Rules to know before apply: We don't ask you to be active every single day or week but at least from time to time we hope you make yourself useful as a Pirate.

Every 3 months we will randomly look into our members table and choose a few to check their activity.

As we said, we don't request you to be active every day or week but we do think that 3 months is plenty of time for you to make at least 1 post right?

If you for example get sick and need to go out for a long time like 1 year or so or if you go work to another country and you can't access HF for quite some time we won't kick you out.

We just request that you contact one of the Leaders to inform of your situation.

Note: If you get accepted you'll receive a PM from us. If we don't accept your application we won't say anything so if after a few days you don't get a PM then you'll know you were not accepted.

Also please don't PM us about your application. We know what we have to do.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

- Numerous amount of Tutorials/Help Desks
- Released free tools to help members out
- Helping people out whenever I can in certain sections
- Be a decent member with common sense, just one contribution to this fine forum. :P

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

- Release products/tutorials/help desks/general help threads to increase peoples knowledge in various sections.
- Participate in all group activities
- Always be active within the group
- Help other group members out with any situations
- Help make this group, not only a group but a family.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

- I have various skills that can increase others knowledge
- I am constantly online (Pretty much)
- I am very productive and do not waste my time
- I take instructions very seriously and do them quickly.
- Anything needs to be done, I'll do it. #PIRATES

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

- Because it is looked upon as one of the greatest groups on HF
- Lots of HQ Members, would love to be apart it with them
- Excellent high quality content from the group
- I wish to make this better, adding a dash of Velocity. :^)

Thank you for reading, have an excellent day.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Within groups, I've done a lot of things, as I see a group / team, as people I'm meant to enjoy success with, and I help out as much as I can to present success within the group, I do things like, Crypting services, Free social boosts, etc..

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Again, If i got into pirates, I'd do everything in my ability to make sure I took a successful role within the group, with that being earnings, maintaining friendships, and keeping a good reputation within the group, being a member that anyone can come to with requests, If i can do it, Consider it done.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I think you should choose me to be a part of your group, as I'd be a member that helps all around, with knowledge, resources, and In general, I'm loyal, and all about my team.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Pirates, are everywhere on the forum, and generally have a good / positive fan base every body know of these.

And also, If you check one of my latest threads, I'm looking for a team, that is active, and motivated, this team seems to be exactly that.

My Latest Thread

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4995856>

for the lazy

Spoiler (Click to View)

So I'm looking to start a group, with a bunch of people that are highly motivated to make money, have fun and gain knowledge on the internet.

I'm Looking for someone HQ that also has the same ambitions as me, to do exactly this, someone that is active, and online at least 6/7 hours a day, with high standards, and a good overall knowledge of the forum, and what lies within to start this with me.

The group will have high standards, and will strictly be for motivated people, no slackers.

As I've joined many groups that claim to be "working" or doing projects, when I join, the members just talk BS, in chats, and are all inactive AF.

I hope you can see where I'm coming from with this, I think the forum needs something like this, for workers to work and get what they deserve.

Worked with Velozity in the past and he has been completely faithful to me and therefore I would definitely consider him a member you could trust. Velozity has various skills and I'd think he'd be an asset to the group.

What have you done for the community?

I've tried to help as well as I can to help the users in the C++ and PHP section.

Most of my posts are in the coding section.

I've also made some guides to help the community:

C++ beginner guide

Introduction into version control with Git

Hooks using Git

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?

I'll continue with helping users in the coding section as well as I can and maybe run helpdesks/tutorials/releases under Pirates name.

I would participate in every group activity/project.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?

I'm a chill guy.

I have knowledge in several areas of development too which I could share with the members.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?

I would like to be a part of a nice community.

Zexo - September 25, 2015, 8:26 am

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I wrote a tutorial on how to set up IRC

I help the noobs in the Botnet/SST/Uber/Lounge sections

I release scripts for free, public

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I will work the corner and every penny I make will go to the leaders.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

Cause I'm fucking awesome.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

It seems like a fun and chill group to be in.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I answer peoples questions in the lounge and vices. I'm like a fucking mentor.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Answer peoples questions, maybe do something more community directed if that opportunity ever arises and there is something I see having an impact and not a scheme to just grab attention (i.e rep i.e bigger e-penis; don't act like you don't know exactly what i'm talking about).

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'd say I'm an open minded, intelligent person and could be a valuable asset to the group.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I don't really have a specific reason for joining, I don't really know what you guys do so I guess I want to see what the SF is about and decide whether I like it or not. If it's as inactive as crypto's i'll probably leave if accepted.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): In my four years on HF, I would like to say I have accomplished a lot. Of course there are many people that I have helped which would be impossible to count, there are also other things as well. If you were to check my rep, you would see hundreds of rep from users thanking me for the help. I have, since joining the site, not only donated $950+ to the site, but I have given away over $1,000 in cash and prizes right here on the forums. I have never scammed a member, and will never scam a member.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I am willing to do giveaways of all sort, help out users whenever I see fit or if I know that I am able to help on the topic, and I will be a fun and active member.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm a fun guy who also knows how to be serious. You won't regret adding me in.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: It's been awhile since I've been in a group, and I miss the brotherhood type feeling that comes with one. From what I can tell, none of the other groups really interest me right now. I had an interest in pirates since it's opening but never got around to applying. I hope I am able to join this group.

Thanks!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I try my absolute best to help people out. I'm always online looking for ways to help people or making tutorials to help people out. I'd consider myself a HQ person, I love to hang out on HF and learn new things.

Here are some things I have contributed so far since I joined 3 months ago.

SKYPE MESSAGE MORPHER

Free TS3 Servers Giveaway

Doxing Tutorial

Skype Bots & Resolvers List

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'm willing to be a good member, continue to be as High Quality as I can.

I will continue to do giveaways and release new products onto the market no matter what. I'm willing to help anyone out in the group if help is needed

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm a friendly person, love playing games such as CS:GO and Call of Duty. I'm always trying to help people out as you can see from my giveaways and tutorials. I feel I would be a great addition to Pirates as I'm very active and I will not bring a bad name to the group

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I'd like to join to get to know more users, I don't know much about Pirates so it would be great to see what the group is all about.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

- I have supported the forum by upgrading to ub3r, also donating for a few awards.
- I try my best to make quality posts to help other users out.
- I have done a few giveaways in the past.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I'm willing to be a high quality and respectable member of the group. I can be active and help with any in group activities.

I also have been gaming and doing graphic design for about 4 years now. I'm sure I could put together some tutorials or help out some of the users in the group with these things.

I have a specific interest in csgo. I have been playing for about a year now. It's pretty much all I do in my free time. I have become pretty good at the game itself.

I can help with anything ranging from getting better at the game itself, to betting, and even help users trading their items for profit.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I can contribute and be a productive member of the group.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

Pirates seems like a chill group to be apart of. I would love to join and interact with and meet some more members.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I try to help people as much as possible, mostly hanging in the Lounge but also in sections like Counter-Strike.

I've also held a few contests and have a detailed guide for Rainmeter put up.

Examples:

[\[EVERYONE\] UPGRADE CONTEST! L33t, Ub3r or 3p1c! Gift or Emerald award!](#)

[\[EVERYONE\] Steam Gift Contest! 5 Winners!](#)

Rainmeter Guide & Show your Theme Thread

I plan on hosting a lot more contests.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Continue what I'm doing now. Keep on helping people.

I also have plans for more contest very soon.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I'm VERY active on HF. Several hours daily. You'll be seeing me around the forum a lot.

I'm also genuinely a very nice person.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I would like to join Pirates because I'm interested to see how a group with so many members work.

I'm interested as to what people have to offer, and what I can offer for them.

I've seen members of the group around HF, and they seem very cool.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I have done nothing significant within the community. I am not interested in hacking, the marketplace, or giveaways. The only real act of contribution that I've done within the community is post, post, post. I seek-out topics that interest me and then post feedback accordingly. Depending on the seriousness of the thread I may troll a bit. Most of the time I give appropriate feedback in an attempt to maybe help the original poster. I have learned that you don't need to contribute to this community through the obvious means -- hacking. I guess you could say that I contribute to this forum through general means, meaning that all I really do is use the forum for general purposes like posting. If that happens to benefit you, then it is a plus.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am not going to lie and say that I'm going to go out of my way to do anything special; However, I do plan to keep on doing what I've been doing, and that is simply posting. This includes posting and being active within the group's sub-forum. So I guess you could say that the most that I could do for the group is keep the sub-forum active and rep the Pirates name.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I think you should select me because of the reasons I mentioned in previous questions. I do not use this forum for the intended purpose of hacking/marketing. I personally think that your group could use more casual members such as myself.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

Because Pirates is a group of adventurers who sail the Seven Seas in pursuit of great knowledge of any type and friends from any kind. I caught wind of that group description and it sounded very appealing. I am always interested in gaining knowledge and making new friends. The group seems to deviate away from hacking/marketing and that is one of the main reasons why I'm applying. I feel like this is a group that could use someone like me and vice versa. And then there's the pirate puns. You can't forget about the pirate puns.

Thank you for taking the time to read and review my application.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):I have provided endless knowledge and support for thousands of HF Users as well as ran some of the biggest giveaway threads ever to exist on this forum with 2K+ replies, I also have ran numerous popular products and services including Xpozure Booter, XpozureNT, Xpozure VPN, Xpozure Hosting, Currency Exchange Shops. I have also owned my own group called The Marketers which was the first "Marketing" group ever on HF. I have blessed and help many in my 5 years on HF just as I am continuing to do. Just ask around about me.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:Probably nothing at all.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:Because I am taking time out my busy schedule to post here and I would hate to have to consider that a wasted effort.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:I am looking to try out some new groups.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

There was a time where I was more active and running some services like real and hq traffic and social stuff, I sold a money maling method to some people, made a MAC help desk and worked in group projects like hacking websites and databases (I was in Legion). After those times I got a break and I came back not much time ago.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I'm focusing and investing A LOT in knowledge at the moment; refreshing my web development knowledge (HTML, CSS, PHP, JS, etc) and learning Phyton. Also have a great c/c++ programmer irl that I will see a lot from now on and we will work together for a new and unseen kind of R.A.T.

Eventually I will focus on these subjects plus what I am born to: making money and the relevance of human psychology in this.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should consider me because you will have a member you won't regret of.

I'm loyal, fair and helpful as much as I can. I love to help if I'm able to and I am used to working with groups of people (entrepreneur irl). When I want to accomplish something I donkt give up and do everything to succeed. If there are no known way be sure I'll come up with one. When it comes to create new things and thinking out of the box, I'm your man.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I'm being honest when I say that it is the coolest group of the forum.
I think Pirates is the most appropriate name for what I do and will do.
I've also came across a few members of yours which I thought they were good people.
Seems really a good group and I'm sure my contribution will help raising the name to a higher level of quality and reliability.

I'd also never feel in a better position to use this?

What have you done for the community?

I'm not going to brag about the numerous amount of threads and tutorials I've done because I don't think that's what helps the community fully.

What I have done is stick around and be active for a long time despite personal issues, helped new members on their way and made every post I've ever made relevant and useful.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?

Just help out wherever I'm needed and where I can. Whether is be creating GFX, create threads, make / contribute to help-desks, let other members learn from meanwhile I do the same.

Also, make e-booty.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?

I'm an all round nice guy that isn't going to kiss peoples asses but im not going to go around starting arguments for no reason. I'm online a lot and I do like to make sure I do things to the best of my ability.

I'd like to continue doing what I do normally but be in a group of like minded members to do what I do along side me.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?

I want to be in a group with a nice little community that scratches each others back and from seeing the pirate badge around HF quite a bit - I'd like to be able to be a part of the "kewl dudes".

Thanks for reading, have a good 'un. ?

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Hello, I'm a new member on HF. In my acknowledgment, nothing has been done for HF, however, that does not mean nothing will soon be done for the board. Days have gone by, many thoughts have been processed, PM's have been sent for partnership services.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: As stated above, many thoughts have been processed, meaning giveaways may be offered. Within Pirates, I am able to release products, tutorials, help desks, or common guidance threads to improve knowledge between individuals. In addition to that, many threads related to marketing will be created such as CPA (Cost-Per-Action), or PPD (Pay-Per-Download) which behaves like a middle-man to CPA.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: Well, I have various skills that can improve knowledge between individuals, as stated above. I'm almost always online, very friendly, helpful and will assist members within Pirates. In conclusion, I am an open minded, genuine individual and could be a valuable asset to the group.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: To be honest, I'd like to join to get to know more users, as I am a newcomer to HF, however, it would be great to see what this group is all about. If you have any questions regarding this application, PM me for an instant response.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I have done a ton for the HackForums community and I will continue to do more and more until there is nothing else I can do. I have a Hosting company, Skype resolver which i am going to look into reviving. I have a stresser and tutorials. I have also got big things coming very soon!

I strive on Inspiration from others and myself to offer the best I can and nothing less. I also host some popular thread like the one for people to roast me. That thread got quickly over 140 replies of insults and whatnot. I hosted a thread on who is hotter? Selena Gomez or Ariana Grande, that thread went pretty big too.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:
I will offer whatever the group wants me to offer, I am ver generous and I give it my all in the group.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

What have you done for the community?:

I've always tried to be a useful part of any conversation I involve myself in. I've participated in numerous discussions in the SRPP subforum. Offered advice and help in the computer hardware discussions in COOH. I've run multiple different groups assisting people and providing free services in the ewhore section including free GFX work. I haven't provided many tutorials in the past, only because I tend to actually research the site and try not to post redundant information. I've also done a few giveaways and contests, which I plan to continue doing.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Within the group I plan to be very active. I've been a member of HF for a few years now, but only recently begun being very active, and I plan to continue doing so. I can provide help and tutorials relating to any of the skills that I have, and any that I develop.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I do my best to represent any group/organization that I am a part of well. I can bring maturity and experience to the ranks, and add intelligent discussion in many areas. You should select me, because for an HQ group such as yours, I'm your ideal candidate. Mature, thoughtful, no shitposting, skilled in many areas (and can admit when I don't know something).

Netherlands What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I registered on HF a couple of years ago since I was interested in the game Minecraft. I began coding mods for the game(mostly skidded back in that time) and got really interested. I told a friend of mine to sign up here and he did. We coded stuff together but he's really inactive and his account was closed around 2012/2013(Thats why it may look like I am a multi on the trust check lol). I was inactive until mid 2014 when I got back here. Mainly for Java programming though as I was most active in that section. This time not for the game Minecraft. Here I began helping people code and to this day I continue doing this. On last year's Christmas I created a thread for an improvement for this section. No one replied for about two months. Then I got a PM from Omni who was kind enough to make me sectional moderator. This allowed me to keep the section clean of JavaScript(yes people don't know the difference) and other junk. I hope that that's enough explanation for my contributions to the community. What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I can always help people if they're interested in learning Java. If members are having trouble with exercises I wouldn't mind helping them out although I am not here to do your homework. I am also a nice member for the group as I enjoy talking to members. I also talk to members of Pirates on a regular basis. Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I am a nice guy to talk to and can always contribute in a way such as mentoring/tutoring. Furthermore I would represent the group in a good way due to my activity in the Java section. Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I think it's a cool group to be a part of as I know some people who are in it. I do not really now what to say about this ubt I think it fits me :p

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

Honestly, I do not think I have done much for the community besides helping people with their needs. If someone makes a thread asking for help, I try to assist them with whatever they need help with.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

My goal is to be active and try to befriend most of the members in Pirates. I will try to participate in the group activities and help out the community however I can.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should select me to be apart of your group because I would be an amazing pirate, arrrr. I would consider myself to be easy going, I just go with the flow. I am able to make friends easily and I feel like this is the perfect group for me. I am fairly active on HF and will not bring a bad name to the group, Pirates.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

One of the main reasons why I want to join Pirates is because I want to be a part of the group of adventurers who sail the Seven Seas in pursuit of great knowledge of any type and friends from any kind. Another reason is that I want to be apart of the best group on HF. ???

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I haven't made many contributions tutorials wise, but I am an active user of both the Hosting Services section in the marketplace, and the Webmasters section, in both handing out advice to people new to hosting/systems administration, as well as giving them guidance on what could be done to make their system more effective. I have done numerous VPN setups, and am looking to start a Hosting Setup/Management business for both businesses, and customers to get their system managed/setup at cheap and affordable prices, and depending on the circumstances, maybe even free :)

I am looking to create tutorials for the wider community after I have found out which topics are in the highest demand, and researched into those topics a bit more.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Within this group, I will be willing to contribute tutorials and advice towards other members who would like to learn something from my skill set, as well as publishing resources which could otherwise be of great use.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I believe you should select me as I am willing to be an active member who respects others views and opinions, as well as contributes back for all the good stuff I've learnt from HF.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I would like to join Pirates in particular as it seems like an amazing group full of amazing people, and I would like to be part of this community :)

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I am actively helping guys in hacking section and also I try to avoid posting there due to some reasons you may know but if I found that someone is scamming or something , I help that member to prevent the scam. As we know that there is a section "hacking request" which is free. A lot new guys come to HF and many scammers try to scam them and yeah they get scammed too. So basically if I found something suspicious then I just PM the OP that beware you may get scammed and PM me before any deal.

Also I am active in helping people to disinfect their PC. I am on HF from almost 3 years now.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Well I am good with hacking so I will guide others in this , also will learn the new tricks from the guys which are in group. I will help them to remove any viruses/botnets and all.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

My nature is very kind and I am polite. I am very active and used to respond as soon as possible. I run a company and you can see what people our telling. (I do what I promise). So I feel like you should give a chance. I am an android dev, have knowledge of Webhosting, server side works, Firewalls and many more. Perfect for helping to anyone related to this field.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I found this group awesome.. my 1-2 friends are in this group and they were telling that it's awesome to have a membership of this group. I feel like I should be the part of this since I have that potential and I am willing to contribute. since I got the skills to help the members of this group and to contribute so I should be in and this is what I feel.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I have been part of the community since 2011. I have contributed in every way possible to HF that I know of. I assist people daily, I create tutorials and guides and I was even a member of the HJT Team, Reviewers and Writ3rs. I was a very dedicated Reviewer, always eager to review whenever needed. I also have 500+ reports for LQP and other undesirable content.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am a second year Computer Science student with years of experience in programming. I am willing to share my knowledge with other members of the group aswell as the entire HF community. I will also participate in all group events.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I have been inactive on HF for about 2 years. Now that I am back, I want to re-experience the awesome moments I had within the groups I was a part of. I believe that I am very motivated. I can greatly benefit this group with my knowledge and experience in the HF scene.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

Although I am down to share any knowledge I have, I want to gather as much knowledge myself. I feel that I am much more motivated when I learn from the heart rather than due to obligations, such as exams. I want to someday have the necessary skills to succeed in my career as a Software Engineer. I would also like to meet new people, most of my old close HF friends are inactive.
