Thread: Alternate Skype app for prank calls?

Motiv - September 30, 2015, 5:10 am

So I'm looking to do some prank calls with some groups, but I'm HWID banned and can't fix it. Does anybody know another program that would be good for groups like Skype for prank calls?

This way you can spoof and stay more secure

Sounds a bit extensive for just prank calls? Not familiar with it. Thanks for the suggestions and I'll do some research.

Any other suggestions?

Just use your phone, brother (Assuming you are in america). For mobile phones type *67 and the number you want to dial. For landline phones type *67 and call it. When you hear a beep type the phone you want to call but with a 1 in front of it. Let me know if I can help you out anymore, brother. ?

Uhh, try making a VM? I have no clue if that'll work but yeah.

I'm also interested in a crank caller for Skype.

They actually ban your computer.

Wow, is there a way around that?

Does that mean your computer can't install Skype at all?
