I won't open a scam report he did send what I originally ordered(I haven't checked nor do I plan to), I would like to alert the community.

- It took this scumbag too long to even get me what I paid for and he lied multiple times about when he'd be sending it to me
- He tried to sell me some other user's accounts and claimed it to be a method, if I had sent him $30 more, he would have scammed me for $50 in total
- I requested a refund twice and he still sent the accounts to me forcing me to accept it as if it were a successful transaction

Sarcastic Desires - October 1, 2015, 7:25 am

Just to clarify, the OP wants to make 0x look like a worse scammer than he already is so he "forgot" the dollar sign.

It's actually $20, instead of 20 BTC.

Also to point out, the op told me to send him the accounts even after the wait time so he can get to school.

Such a shame framing someone for something he didn't do OP

Go ahead and send them over was your exact words.
