Thread: Fatal SQL errors

Code_Spent - October 2, 2015, 11:07 am

Been getting a lot recently on the site, anyone else or is it an issue on my end?

If you're getting an SQL error, it is a problem with the server, not you. Omni is probably doing something. Nothing to worry about.

That's what I was thinking, but I do also use a plugin that allows me to edit HF locally to lay it out to my liking, didn't know if maybe I screwed something up.

SQL is database between the site and posts and stuff. Not the CSS layout.

Right, I know SQL, I just know MyBB stores images and other resources in the DB, so I was thinking there could have been an interruption.

Just convenient timing because I just made a change before the error. xD

Thanks for the help!

Let's all wait for Omni to upgrade the server. That will for sure make an end to all these errors.
