Thread: Anyone have a method for finding what Skypes are linked to what email

?K47 - October 2, 2015, 10:44 pm

Anyone here have a method for finding the email address linked to specific skype ids? Have a couple og skypes that I forgot what email I put them on and need to send pass resets....will toss you a skype or netflix, hulu, or somethin else in return if you can help.

Add me to any contacts in my signature

There are many sites which do this.

I hate contacting support, but I'm fairly certain that is the only way. All you have to do is go here and follow these instructions:

It normally takes 3 business days to respond, but with these email resets it typically is scripted and they don't always do IP/fraud checks.

This has been asked a few times and unlike the "Email to Skype" option most resolvers include, "Skype to email" doesn't usually work unless they find a match in a database.

Then again it has been said in some threads that it can be done somehow with skype4com but I'm guessing the method is private.

Anyway you can always search in the "Add contact" > "Search Skype Directory" box email addresses that you might remember.

A lot of sites have Skype2Email lookup. Last time I checked, SkypeGrab.net had one.
