There are tools like LOIC but no one uses them because you're killing your bandwidth = you kill your own connection. The best way are booter or botnets you can buy booters in the marketplace section not really free but you can get a stresser for pretty cheap. if youd like some websites and stuff i could help you with that

I don't think I'd use the tool on my own network

Using a booter/botnet (basically LOIC but 100x harder and cheap, webbased) is pretty neat. However, if you're going to turn into one of those ddosing fuckers, then I have no respect for you.

Don't be Jewish and go buy a stresser. It's pocket change.
