Thread: [\[WARNING\] Gamblers becareful of CSGOWonder](#)

IAmA-GOAT - October 6, 2015, 8:24 am

Just a warning to gamblers that use csgogambling websites, do not use csgowonder.com.

The site literally has a section on the admin panel that says:

CHEATING

STEAMID: XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

The owner enters any SteamID, and it will win with a 0.000001% chance.

The owner owns, 3 of those accounts, in the top 6. The 6th account is the russian coder that codes the website.

I cleaned out their bots a few weeks ago for 2k in skins, and was going to see if I could do it again, but I can't so I decided to put a warning up here for anyone that uses jackpot websites, so HF members don't loose skins to them.

I do not believe the owner has any affiliation with HF.

Are you fucking serious? ?

How is it even possible to lose control of bots...

Its pretty simple to code a script like that its just around 10 lines..

The site redirects to this site? :O

He obviously hacked the whole website since he said in the OP he had access to the ACP

Vanilja - October 6, 2015, 9:48 am

There is a reason you don't gamble on random new sites. Gj on redirecting it tho lol

Serendity - October 6, 2015, 11:37 am

Im done loving the re-directing

1tap - October 6, 2015, 11:49 am

That redirecting xD

Good job op, love threads like this damn

iSic_ - October 6, 2015, 5:02 pm

I lost 4$ to that site earlier. Wish I would've read this sooner. rip

nya?? ?? ??? - October 6, 2015, 5:10 pm

You should of waited till there were a bunch of skins in the bots then take control of it.

IAmA-GOAT - October 7, 2015, 11:16 am

Seems there site is back up and running again.
