I know you guys don't really like SAO, but a movie is coming out so

Studio: A-1 Pictures

Air Dates: Feb 18, 2017

Details

Quote:From the upcoming Dengeki Bunko magazine:

-The planning for the movie began just before the end of the second season's airing

-The movie will remain a story about Kirito and Asuna, but highlight scenes will be prepared for the other characters as well

-In chronological order, the movie will take place after Mother's Rosario but before the latest Alicization publication

-There was an idea to once again reboot the Aincrad arc from the first floor, but due to concerns about whether that's what the audience wanted to see, it was decided to continue the story after the Mother's Rosario arc

So pretty much the Alicization arc is guaranteed to be adapted after the movie, and A-1 considered the best idea in the anime franchise's history, but rejected it. I would gladly take a reboot to fix the mistakes A-1 has made the past two seasons over another badly-adapted continuation.

so basically a plot to try and milk this anime more than it has been already

But KiritoxAsuna was the only slightly good part about SAO so I'm not bothered by this.

Do you have any idea when it is coming out?
It was my first anime xD

i watched season 1, 2 and the movie. I don't like this anime at all and i have given it WAY too many chances to redeem itself and has not. the first half of season 1 WAS AMAZING don't get me wrong but the other half and season 2 . . . the tried to milk it and i now have no respect for aniplex as a whole now so...

You can't blame them for milking, they probably didn't know it was gonna be so popular and planned on cutting it off at season one, but the paper was rolling in. I personally wished they stopped at season 1 because the story felt so forced that I couldn't watch more than 15 minutes

The show was alright but I really only enjoyed the Mothers Rosario and SAO arcs.
If the movie focuses on KiritoXAsuna i'll enjoy it, but it could go either way.

I honestly prefer the GGO arc over the fairy shit arc. It was very cool to be honest, wouldn't hesitate to call it better than S1 if the whole second season was about GGO.
The Aincrad arc in S1 was good, but would've been tons better if they showed more boss battles and didn't skip shit.

Lyralei - October 23, 2015, 5:00 pm

Not too interested, theres too many SAO specials already and etc.
All i can say is "not again.."

The light novels didn't go through all the floors, the anime more or less followed the light novels

Also, the quicker the anime gets to the alicization arc, the better imo (if they do decide to animate that arc).

Hikimon - October 23, 2015, 10:26 pm

the movie is gonna be absolute shit

No one expects it to go through all floors of course, but dude how many boss battles did they show? Like 5 or something? Even if the novel was exactly the same, that means the novel isn't really the best either..

I'm glad they're not doing a recap and picking up right where s2 ended.

I'm assuming it's gonna be a set up for season 3?

Its after the Mother Rosario Arc so yes?

Stella Vermillion - December 1, 2015, 6:55 pm

Looks like this is gonna follow the trend of season 2, with a movie then season 3(like extra edition -> s2).

Hopefully 90% of the movie aren't recollections of the past this time.

I'm more interested in season 3 than the movie, actually.

Its definitely one of my top favorites so yeah. I'm hella pumped for the movie. Hopefully it'll be good because the second season was shit compared to the first.

I am even though my impression of SAO has went downhill. Like I'll probably watch it anyway even though I know it will likely be bad. Hopefully a movie at least delivers better in comparison to the series.

I'm hoping so as well, S2 killed whatever potential the original series had, so maybe the film can help it get to a stable level, but only time will tell.

A lot of beginners start with SAO because it is familiar and about gaming/VMMORPG.

Or because someone recommended it for them, I've watched like 10 series before I heard about SAO from a friend.

Just returned from the first screening of it where I am and I must say it must've been a real piece of work to put together.
The whole movie was about 2 hours and as per the SAO style, lots of sword movements and virtual deaths.

At the end it showed there'd be another movie and I thought that'd be pretty cool.
