Thread: Time has come, I'm officially an adult.

G??gle - October 10, 2015, 12:33 am

Today is my birthday, I turn 18, and where I live that means you're an adult. So now I turn up for my own shit.

It's not really a happy birthday though. I just came back from party and still didn't hear anything from my family. (I'm sleeping at a friends place)

Yesterday I left the house arguing with my mom, so yeah...

How is your relationship with your mother in general? Do you guys normally always fight? Or just occasionally? Anyways, Happy Birthday!

Good if you live in the US you can now become a gun owner. Make sure you defend your home from these dirty red coats.

Happy birthday dude, congrats on becoming an adult. You should sort things out with your mom, because you'll regret it later otherwise.

Happy birthday.

Though you're not an adult until you start taking care of yourself by yourself(paying bills, working, ect)
