How long does registration take?

Been waiting here for a few for the activation email.

Dowls - October 13, 2015, 5:05 pm

Your logo on the top left doesn't load? also no page icon.

You've said "I have implements awards" rather than Implemented.

The usergroup picture doesn't look that great either.

Not trying to shit on your forum or anything, just trying to point out some things I'd improve.

I do like your stats widget? on the left column though.

Yeah.... looks like you pretty much just installed MyBB, downloaded a custom theme and changed a few words.

Eggsy - October 13, 2015, 5:45 pm

Like I said I have things to change. I am in the process of changing user titles, adding more awards, ect, What's your forum nechie ? Can ou please explain?

Eggsy - October 13, 2015, 8:51 pm

Abroad / General discussion. Haven't gone too far into it yet.

There is so much errors where did you download your theme? From official mybb forum or from internet?

Maxi - October 13, 2015, 11:25 pm

Nice looking theme but there are plenty of errors.

Eggsy - October 14, 2015, 1:58 pm

A lot of the errors are fixed now. Just working on the registration error. Everyone can still sign up, right now we have to accept manually.

It's a long way from the releasing stage lol. There seems to be a lot of work that still needs to be done. Good luck with your forum, i'll check back and probably sign up once it gets going. ?

Thank you for your response limited edition. Everything is in the works, and I see that now. Doing a lot of work and eliminated most errors :)

haha, I just read my post and I sound horrible. What I mean is I've rushed before to open forums to the public long before everything is done. Honestly, even after a month of opening you'll still be finding things you should of done before opening lol.
