If I apply of course.

I've checked a few but found nothing on new members applying.
thanks

You can apply, anyone can really, unless you're a scammer or have a high warning usually.

You can apply though I highly doubt new members are accepted.

If you are what they are looking for, yes.

Hm, well I'll apply for a group that has no minimum requirements and hope for the best.
Thanks! :)

I think there's some group recruitments open right now.

Depending on your skill-set or knowledge of certain subjects then I'm sure you can get in a group.
I'm not going to lie though, being around on the forum for a while will greater your chances by a mile.
