Thread: Any idea how to get into a server via email adress only?? brndonw - October 16, 2015, 6:38 am

I have a website and Email address of my victim but no Ip, any why for me to get into a server? or like phishing?

I have linux 2.2 so how do i "break" the vul i scanned it and it shows low security with vega, but when i do mysql it stops at a certain point. yes i have my ass covered vpn wise.

please give me an idea or software/program like armitage or RAT to trick the victim?

my resources. --> email address and 2 direct weak vul websites not so good at cracking so can anybody hint me?

I am a noob so don't judge

This post is all over the place. Ill just focus on what you said you have. Seen that you only have a website (which has an extremely vague meaning) and an email address, you should probably focus on spear phishing. And having his IP address might not give you any leverage at all, seeing that his machine is actually behind a firewalled router.

And using a VPN does fully cover your ass, just FYI. You will need to resort to client side attacks for this one since you have limited information.
