Thread: Started streaming a few months ago - Recieved my first donations! :P

Hey HF!

I started streaming a few months ago with my friend, since he moved into my apartment. We are stream agar.io and shitz, just chilling around. We got around 30-40 viewers on on a good night, and 10-20 on a basis.

Anyways, I realized that I actually recieved 2x $1 donations from 2 viewers. I am kinda proud of myself, even though the donations are small :D

Are you streaming? If yes, what do you stream? :D

A link to the stream(If you feel like following! :D) : www.twitch.tv/gghil

Cheers! ??

Gotta start somewhere, congrats on the base you're building.

I don't stream but my friend does!

And that's awesome. Good job.

Nice bro, you gotta promote your channel a little bit more in the meanwhile you're streaming. Gain more viewers, get more money, and quit your irl job. :)

Exactly!

Thank you so much, I really don't stream to get donations, but because I enjoy gaming. Even though it is nice to get paid to do something that you like :P

All donations are used to pay for bills and new gear.
true or lie?

This is true. Currently I am streaming on my laptop, and I need a new computer to be able to stream things, like CS:GO :-)

Also bills are for our apartment "The Gaming Apartment" - We dedicated our apartment to gaming, means we have computers in the living room aswell as a playstation and laptops everywhere. :)
