Thread: [\[Tutorial\] Silhouette GFX \(Beginner\)](#)

TRAUMA - October 18, 2015, 7:50 pm

edit: will make a new video one soon.

Silhouette is a type of 2D art. It normally is a picture in one solid color. However, in todays tutorial.. We will be making several "Silhouette" layers.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

1.) Make a new file with the dimensions of your project (Wallpaper, Banner, ect)

2.) Pick a color you like. I chose blue.

3.) Fill the background in with a LIGHT version of your color. We slowly will be making it darker.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

4.) Make a new layer, and pick a shade darker than your last color. Begin drawing the farthest object, in my case its mountains.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

5.) Continue to make the layers that you chose to get closer and closer.

6.) Details (Trees, rocks, grass, etc.) Make a new layer for each object you'd like to add.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

7.) Add them accordingly across your project. Also feel free to add a sun, clouds, etc!

8.) Close it out with adding your name somewhere, like mine!

Great tut man xD

It could also work for a building background.

Your signature brought me here. I have no knowledge of photoshop or any other GFX tool, but have eyes and brain to identify good work and to give well deserved appreciation.

Your work is impressive. Make a signature for me, if you don't mind.
