Thread: Clothing Line

I've recently have gotten the motivation to invest my money and open up my own production of clothes. Mainly t-shirts, long-sleeves. etc. My main question of advice is how I need to get started. I'm willing to make the sacrifices needed to make this work and already have a niche way of advertisement but as far as contacting designers, and buying the right type of shirts I am clueless. All help is appreciated!

Thanks guys!

Make a nice and appealing website for the customers. Do you have a name in mind ?

I'd love to help you if you need anything.

Step 1: Don't ask HF for advise.

I was into this for a while

If you want some pretty rad designs cheap contact local artists

Also printers can be expensive for qualities ones maybe use a site like teespring?
