Thread: AGC reported stolen?

GarciaCuhh214 - October 30, 2015, 10:14 am

So last night I made $30 off some guy from my Kik Contacts, I sent him a couple of pictures but then he asked me for a very specific video or picture, now he asked this after he sent the $30 AGC, I asked for just the code and redeemed that way. I stopped replying back to him as I could not make the specific videos or pics he was asking for. I woke up this morning to a message saying that he was going to report his gift card as stolen, Is this possible? I mean I already redeemed the code onto my personal Amazon account. Should I worry about this?

Thank you guys! ??

EDIT:

So I just placed an order for a iPad Digitizer that I needed to replace on my iPad Mini, went through now I am just going to unLink my CC just in case :)

Thank you guys! ??

Yeah amazon will probably refund him. Theres a possibility that they wont take your money but theres a small chance. THATS IF he reports it.

did he ask for his name on a paper ?!

He'd have to actually call them and such.

I'd say it's a 50/50 chance.

Have a nice day! ?

Did he send the code through kik? If so to avoid this happening again have them purchase the gift card and send it to your email PM me if you are confused

So should I try to make him happy again? lol I havent blocked him, or should I spend the $$$ before anything happens?

Just buy something with the money and you will be good.
