Glad we could be of service! Honestly though, if enough people want this, we could totally open a market thread for it.

She's super open minded. She did great and OP's transaction went smoothly!

The TOS that i have is that i no longer own the recording after payment is sent. This is to prevent it showing up on the web or some shit like that. So OP would have to post it, as he now owns it.

Not at all man. I encourage it! There should always be competition, if not then things get monopolized. best of luck with sales!
