Well the internet is flooded with forums, I think the best period for starting a new forum was till 2010. Anyways best of luck to you and your forum mate.
It looks good.

I just got a free upgrade thanks to this thread: <http://uberforums.org/announcement-1.html>

Senpie - November 1, 2015, 8:12 pm

Both upgrade options are now purchasable through credits, which is easily earned.
In regards to the recent downtime - we (the staff team) are truly sorry for this but it wasn't us that was at fault, the whole data-center for OVH has had a network incident and all sites using OVH are down. We don't have much information to why the whole data-center was offline but we are working our hardest to keeping the site up and running.

We actually used to own UberForums.net but we shut it down, this is why we came back up under a new domain.

You are welcome to point it toward the site and get an upgrade in exchange for it.

This is probably one of the only sites I'll be using from now on.

The forum is running smoothly,

2 new colors of our theme has been added Gray and Red and an additional light theme is being made too.

ZuGgY - November 7, 2015, 12:44 pm

The black/blue default theme is really nice, but forums still seem inactive.

good luck.
