Thread: Best/easiest technique to make money online?

BeechwoodMassive - November 2, 2015, 3:16 am

Hey guys im currently a 20 y/o university student who's after a little income to help me get by. I've read countless threads but I am still unsure on the best ways to make money online.

My passion is music, and as I study it at University I would say that it my strongest feature.

Thanks

Ask Mark Zuckerberg which method is best and he will tell you "mine".

I have serious doubts you're 20. I would guess 14.

No, the first part of comment for actually my point but it's beyond your mental capabilities to see it.

And about your age, ... how you're butthurt about that, I'm obviously right.

depends on your line of work and what interests you. have your own ideas, ask others to realise it.

The cold hard truth is that most of the times, you won't be able to make money with your passion. Instead, you'll have to find and stick to something that is proven to work.

I know this isn't what you want to hear but it's the truth spoken from someone with experience in making money online. There is no best or easiest method or else everyone on the Internet would be doing it. Anyone who says different is trying to sell you something.

What? Actually, almost every full-time blogger, site owner or IMer makes money using their passions and what they like to produce and monetize content. Are you subtly shilling for your $5 ebook with that last sentence?

an ez way to earn money? e-whoring ucefax - April 28, 2016, 3:13 am

Try youtube, upload your music, maybe one will buzz!

GGORI - April 28, 2016, 7:22 am

If you truely want an easy way, go for tsu.co (check my post)

It requies 0,0000 knowledge about PC - U just need to get some referrals and u will make pretty big moneyz

mattswrxy - April 29, 2016, 10:52 pm

make a music website and monetise it or sell your skills

Joncat0 - April 30, 2016, 9:54 am

you could try e whoring I'm also about to try it out myself
