GOD OF SARADOMIN - November 2, 2015, 6:49 am

Title say all

What is the best Paid Rat !?

What is the best Free Rat !?

And What the different between PAID and FREE rat

For Example : Monitor + Keylogger are available on "free rat" so why to pay for "Paid Rat" !?!?

Code_Spent - November 2, 2015, 6:50 am

Do a search before posting, there's been 3 of these threads I've seen this morning.

I can't disclose which RAT'S are better then others, why? because some users will get butthurt and i cbf replying to butthurt skids, but i can tell you the difference between PAID and FREE rat's is very large, you'll find that PAID rat's usually come with more personal features whereas FREE rat's are really just what you get, a remote administration tool. ?

NULLEN - November 2, 2015, 6:51 am

I'd recommend Luminosity Link as a paid RAT.

I'd recommend Babylon as a free RAT.

This is all up to interpretation, preference and major other variables. Some would say LL is the best, and others could/would say something about DarkComet from a few years ago.

I can't speculate on which is the best, but just browse through the different sections and I'm sure you'll find what you're looking for, whether free or paid.

Babylon have a CoinMiner trojan in it... I found that CoinMiner is this:

"This threat uses your PC to generate Bitcoins. It installs software that can make your PC run slower than usual."

I don't want to make my computer slower than it already is.. Is it something i should be worried about?

Both of these rats are garbage please don't suggest a pile of shit to members.

LL is super unstable and has depenancys.

Babylon has not features and a few bugs but other than that its ok. Much better the .net crap.

Dont use a users opinion of rats they buy since they are usually a basis opinion that is forced to fear of ban.

Here are some real opinions of rats that are real.

Paid:

Nanocore: it runs smoothly and allows user plugins not fud has somebugs. Only tried trial.

LL: riddled with countless bugs errors (coded with no error handling.) Need to be decided with proper threading and error handling. Not fud and has a 2.0 netframe depenacy. No support and hard to reach when i talk to him he was rude. Has Skype chat but was made by a user due to no support. If you talk bad about he rat threats to ban your license.

IM4: haven't used it.

OSC: Java runtime dependant, has bugs (owner is fixing them very quickly) has server issues every once in awhile (due to ban) in the beginning updates were so frequent, some clients drop when using desktop control or webcam, Jar is fud c# not. Few minor other bugs and no user plugin system . never really requested support but people post on the site and get help from member.

Free:

DC: Just no. Buggy but made in Delphi with Indy sockets. No dependency . I wish this was fixed up but it I'll never be. NOT FUD.

njrat: one if the better free version. Not fud, has a excution hang . some features are buggy. .net Dependant babylon: no dependency: I think the server is .net but the client is c++. Has some bugs and no features (was released to help the community which was a nice thing) Builder is quite weird and for someone learning I wouldn't suggest it.

These are real non piad or fear driven opinions.

xmods1337 spammed the LuminosityLink Support Chat, so I banned him. He then rejoined on other Skype accounts to spam the chat. I do not even think he is a customer of mine.

I have NEVER threatened to ban a users license based on their feedback. In fact, I ask my users to post HONEST feedback in regards to my product. As for my support, I do my best to reply to all queries and PMs (I get hundreds of messages a day.)

I just searched all my PMs and cannot even find a message from xmods1337.
