Thread: Software/Freeware Package

Hello guys,

I'm planning to start a little service in my town as the "Tech guy" , and for that, I need some software / freeware.

Of course, I could download them all one-by-one and this must be a perfect solution since I will only get what I want... Buuut, y'know...

So, I'm looking for a kind of 'MEGA AIO FING PACKAGE SOFTWARE'.

Do you guys know where I can find one ? Might it be torrent or direct download...

I apologize if I made any mistake that can bother ya, I'm not a native english speakin' guy.

A big thank you for anyone that can help me !

You need something like <https://ninite.com> ?

This is what I'm looking for, but I really need the offline installer of them.

I'm living in French Polynesia & our only real ISP sucks masives ducks. I pay 66€ monthly for a 100ko/s download speed. Well... I still got internet right ?

So, downloading everything I need each time will not be possible.

I'll still fav the link you gave me, that would be definitively usefull, but I really need a package with the offline installer.

Anyone ?

Thank you

Best bet would be just to zip up all installers manually and carry it around on an USB then

Still didn't find anything on Google...

I know I will probably end up downloading everything manually, but that would save me a lot of time !

Still looking for it

Sometimes it is freeware only for personal use. If you are making profit, you will have to purchase a license. Make sure to read license agreement first.

Thank you for pointing this out.

I am fully aware that licences will be necessary on a lot of freeware & software too.

For now, I'm just looking to get them all. Afterward, I will negotiate with my futurs tons of customer which one they want, how much they gotta paid for those, how much I would be able to drain them out...

I started to think I will get them manually..

Still looking btw if anyone got some package to share!

I guess I will start to download them manually.

Thx for those who answered :)
