This has to be the funniest scammer, I am tempted to let him keep his $20 just because of how desperate he is. Although this makes it all more fun so I will be giving paypal a call tomorrow and taking back my $20!

Edit: Just realized User is 15 years old... That explains everything!

You should add this report link to the rep you left him, as what's there as of now is considered invalid.

You're not going to get anything dipshit. They don't cover virtual items. You're such a cocky little shit "omg gonna have a good laugh lmaoiml33t", I have like 10 accounts on this shitty site each to make "deals", this does nothing. You won't get anything back.

Don't worry man, again $20 isn't that a big deal the only reason I want back is because you are pretty interesting person if you were that desperate you should have just asked and I could have found you a job lol..

It's fine, I got my money back.

If he was really that desperate, he prob needed to feed his family.
