That's a good question, I'm wondering how to do this too.

Had the issue that I lost my auth keys for other sites already.

AFAIK there isn't a way to do that with Google Authenticator. With Authy it backs it up and you can access it just about anywhere.

i strongly suggest you go with authy man, Google Authenticator will fuck you up if you lose your device.

uhhhhh when I did it for hackforums I had to use Google Authenticator.

How do I switch it over to Authy?
