Thread: If you won the lottery, would you...?

Confound - November 9, 2015, 3:02 pm

If you came across a winning lottery ticket on the floor, for several million dollars, anywhere between 50-200M, what would you do with the money?

Live like Dan Bilzerian?

Give some to family?

Buy a bigger house?

Be smart and put it in savings?

Become a drunk and spend all of it in a year?

Tell me your wildest dreams with your newly made bank $$

FreddieMercury - November 9, 2015, 3:03 pm

House, Car, Keep some money so i can live and not work, invest, sex, bitches, drugs, etc. (last 2 jk)

Maxi - November 9, 2015, 3:05 pm

Put it into my bank and live well with the tax the banks gives me and let the money grow.

rezone - November 9, 2015, 3:06 pm

That's a lot of money that you can do some awesome things with :D.

I would definitely buy a nice ~$5 million house and a few nice cars. I think Id definitely be smart with 60% of the winnings and save but the other 40%, probably every stupid thing i can think of xD.

Muggsy - November 9, 2015, 3:06 pm

Give half to my mom for raising me. then invest 1/4th of it and chill with the rest.

Would never stop working if i won the lottery though.

John F. Kennedy - November 9, 2015, 3:06 pm

House, corvette, and then start up a business. With 50-200m, I'd open a few gas stations up, all in the same area so I can control the prices.

?ystem - November 9, 2015, 3:08 pm

I can assure you if that happened, I'd definitely keep some money away, give some to a church that I trusted, buy a relatively new cheaper car, get a new home, and just keep the rest in my savings.

I have zero interest in exotic drugs or having some whacky parties where everyone is doing coke, or going to some dumb strip club and chucking whads of money at people working there.

My life would change, but not in the "millionaire-does-coke-of-a-whore's-spinal-region". If I win something I generally keep it as long as possible.

Rootings - November 9, 2015, 3:09 pm

HOUSE

NISSAN GTR

4x4 PORCHE

INVEST/START A BUSINESS

Keep the rest in savings...

EZ :D

Chair123 - November 9, 2015, 3:13 pm

Give some to my parents, and wisely save it all up. Probably spend a bit on some computer stuff or stuff that is useful to me. I don't really have an interest in that much fancy stuff.

Lackin - November 9, 2015, 3:15 pm

Mac Pro, Apple Watch, iPhone 6S, A nice computer build, then I'd keep the rest and invest it at a later time. I have all I could ever want now.

SteeZZy - November 9, 2015, 3:16 pm

Buy L33T for all non-upgraded users.

Nah, but seriously, I'd buy a good house somewhere nice and an extremely nice car then put the rest in the bank and save.

I love how no one wants the DB life yet ;)

Ozgin - November 9, 2015, 3:27 pm

Move into a house on my own, and live the same life but without any pressure to do anything. Damn that would be nice.

Moopler - November 9, 2015, 3:59 pm

House, vehicles, guns, toys (dirt bike, seadoo, snowmobile)
Just enjoy life and never having to work again

SoCloseToToast - November 9, 2015, 4:33 pm

Probably going to buy a bonds and live off of that.

Personally i'd give 10k$ to my cousin to suck my dick.

tulczyte - November 10, 2015, 6:43 am

Spend it on family and give few friends a taste of it.

Then I would probably go and travel the world. Most of the money I would invest in some stocks or loans :)

Schnitzel - November 10, 2015, 6:45 am

Dan bilzerian life without the guns :)

HUNNIDS - November 10, 2015, 6:46 am

Well if I won 105 Million (after taxes) here is what I would do. Give 10 Million to my Parents and Sister. After that I give 5 Million to my Grandparents. I then take my family on a long vacation, 2-3 weeks. When I get back I buy my own house, for 2-4 million. Buy 2 cars one for 1 million and the other 500,000. After that I furnish the house completely, this would probably cost 2-4 Million as well. Then after that I spend 100,000-500,000 on new clothes and shoes. Then I take the remaining 70 Million and invest 20 Million and put the other 50 Million into the bank.

SIM-1096442 - November 10, 2015, 7:22 am

Leave school, open some company to make money. Find some professionals to teach me what I actually want to do and not some stupid things that I will never need. And ye fuck bitches

Sounds like you got a well planned out idea. Nice job :)

i would invest 30 million in a TFSA and give 10-20 mil to family.

Levi - November 10, 2015, 10:33 am

I'd probably find a proper investment in building/funding new schools, starting with my ends and moving out to other underprivileged neighbourhoods. I would touch little to none of the money for personal reasons.

Bluffer - November 10, 2015, 10:37 am

Invest in Bitcoin, offer Omni 5 million dollars for HF, buy my family anything they want.

Buy several houses, maybe buy a business.

2073436 - November 10, 2015, 10:37 am

I don't want a boring life.

I'd rather live like Dan Bilzerian. :D

Joseph218 - November 10, 2015, 10:38 am

The only way to be rich is keep investing into go asset. Money don't last long these day

Strictly - November 10, 2015, 11:17 am

Be smart and put it into a savings account and invest it so I can make more.

GoldenWonder - November 10, 2015, 11:26 am

I would just buy a big ass house and a lot of cars then invest some of my money!

SATANxxxxx - November 10, 2015, 11:26 am give it mostly to charity and stocks.

shadowc - November 10, 2015, 11:27 am

Probably spend it on some stuff I want, put the rest in a bank and let the interest grow and set a limit of how much I take for each month so I don't blow through it and I keep making money from interest.

Second scenario that just came to me when I read the 1st post, see how fast I could spend it all. Not even thinking just buying things on impulse if I liked them and see where it goes?
