Hello.

Just something i think would help, i would personally love to have this included so that a certain skid cant see when i am online and ddos me.

That is in your user options. It hides you from the 'Who's Online' list at the base of the website.

However, if you have this enabled, people are still able to see your name on the 'Users browsing this forum' field.

Hopefully this can be added. It is a very small change that I would love to see.

PS. Omni is love.

Ub3rs can see other Ub3rs who are "hidden from the online list"

You're Ub3r so you can see that. L33ts and regulars can't. It just shows up as (x number) of Invisible User(s)

Note the asterisk (*), those are invisible users.

I think you should be already hidden. That's why the asterisk is there.

Oooooohhhhhh.

Alright, sorry for wasting your time. I didn't realize that.
