Thread: An eye for an eye...

SIM-2830142 - November 12, 2015, 4:17 am

Hey Hackforums, i got a little story to tell and i need a bit of advice aswell.

So, yesterday somebody at school threw a wet paper on my neck.
I turned around and asked who was it.

A wannabee guy came at me and tried to defend his friends. He looked at me angry and said:
"What are you gonna do about it?"

Then he started to take his jacket off and wanted to fight.

I already fucking knew he had no chance for me so i took it.

He starts like waving his hands like he was about to fight, so i just punched him first under his right eye.

I landed a few hits and he did aswell, but my first punch was on the point. He fell down and somebody stopped the fight.

So, anyways today at school he had a black eye from my first punch under his eye.

It looked funny as hell and afterall he started the fight.

But today when i was going to my lecture he came to me and apologized.
I behaved well and were fine with it and turned away... but then he just turned around and punched me.

He said it was "an eye for an eye" Allthought, i didn't get an black eye.

What should i do? Should i leave it or nah?

Heulen - November 12, 2015, 4:18 am

Leave it.

Fighting is something beasts do, you're a human. Act like one.

I stand for justice, the pussy had to earn your trust before he could throw a punch holy shit how low can you get ?

Inserenity - November 12, 2015, 4:23 am

Did you see the punch coming or was it a king hit? If you saw it coming I would leave it as you are even, but if that fucker tapped you on the shoulder and king hit you fuck that cunt up.

PurpleIsAColor - November 12, 2015, 4:44 am

That was a dirty move, you gotta fight back now.

You can choose the standard way, and just beat him up with your hands, or a sock with a pool ball, which is a bit more interesting.

Yuikoro - November 13, 2015, 6:49 pm

No way. After he apologized and acted like things were cool, you can't go breaking that trust so swiftly ad nonchalantly. That's more fucked up than his fucked up eye.

I'd personally start stealing or breaking his shit, although I'm no fighter so maybe you can be more direct about it. Bottom line is that you need to fuck him up so he knows he didn't win. You won't win either, but it's at least vengeance for that false apology.

Guys, an update:

So, yesterday after i was studying, i met him outside the school/campus.

There were my friends, me and him and i told him that that was a dick move to apologize and then punch me.

So, i just fucking punched him and he started running. Really, he started to run, even my punch wasn't even effective.

So... we hang out around the park where this happened and HIS FUCKING DAD, YES HIS DAD comes to try and whoop my ass. He tried to talk to me how i punched his son and got him a black eye. I tried to explain him how he started it all but he didn't listen.

He started to attack me and my 4 friends, so we just fucked him.

So, i actually whooped his DADS ass. It was like 4 vs 1 but still he actually called his dad. (i'm 19 btw)

I have no fucking idea what they will do. We got his dad aswell, maybe they're gonna shoot me?
