Thread: Facebook cyberbullying

arrowdusk - November 14, 2015, 10:15 pm

I was requested by some friends to put down some cyberbullies on facebook.

the problem is i am pretty novice on this so i have close to no idea on how to do this, i would need a way to get their passwords

i cannot include the accounts link because i haven't done the 50 posts but I can manage to send the links to anyone i haven't gone around in the forum much and I do not know if this post is wrongly placed any help will be greatly appreciated

i have advanced knowledge on some subject of hacking SOME OF THEM

Should have been posted in the requests for hacking section o.o

Also I doubt any one will do this for free, but you never know, good luck finding someone :)

photoshop or some other good photo editing tool you will need to dig around the net for a good base pic.

Do it yourself. Don't respond to any messages on here. They'll just try to take your money. If someone does offer to help, make them prove they have the account first by screensharing it. Don't send your money first under any circumstances. Good Luck.
