Thread: Got suspended for running Arch Linux on a school computer

Comprogger - November 15, 2015, 7:33 am

They said I was "hacking" and "breaking into security". Wtf? all I did was run Linux on a computer

.Bux - November 15, 2015, 7:50 am

Why would you hack the school network, Josh, why?

G*59 - November 15, 2015, 7:54 am

Its because most of the people who run schools are not very experienced. IME it seems the IT people aren't either. How long was the suspension?

DeezyRick - November 15, 2015, 7:56 am

What did they see you on while you were running Linux that's the question...

SIM-2263652 - November 15, 2015, 7:57 am

I don't know about your school, but I'm pretty sure it is not allowed to run any other operating systems than the default one.

My parents would fight the school is this kind of shit happened to me.

Just tells you countries are ran by undereducated people who think their the shit.

ankithosya - November 15, 2015, 7:59 am

Fear Fear Fear Stereotypes are dangerous , My friend.

You seriously tried to hack and Play porn on EVery TV Or Video devices they had just by Using Linux --- Thats what they Thought.

.Alien - November 15, 2015, 7:59 am

I'm fucking done. I'm motherfucking done.

aguila - November 15, 2015, 8:06 am

why where you running arch on a school computer anyway?

I understand your personal computer, but schools?Why

You know that paper that you sign to allow computer privileges? Yeah well in there it clearly states you cannot modify a computer or run anything that isn't under teacher instruction. What did you expect a cookie? This clearly was your fault and you have no one else to blame or get mad at.

I doubt your schools sysadmin wants some annoying kid installing anything on their machines. What's the point?

Typed this on my phone.

And undereducated is a word. Maybe you should stay where you belong.

Wireless Network - November 15, 2015, 8:54 am

Just imagine what could've happened if you were running kali linux
