(The logos animation seems to only work some times)

First time trying to do something like this.

Does it look better than the one I'm currently using?

(Nov 20, 2015 02:19 AM)Suboptimal Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'd choose another font for the text and maybe another background (black is boring) but in my view it's a great design.

Might change the font I was in too big of a hurry to download one.

Background is actually blue, but putting it in after effects made it much much darker.

honestly, i fucking love it.

i really dont like how the open is right on the side. either remove it or change it.

i also really like the yellow flashes.

It looks pretty awesome. This old style looks nice, appreciate that.

Thanks for the feedback.

Looks way darker know that I'm on my laptop.

To be honest I dont like the "LEUPA" logo at all but the idea and the other stuff is great should be great for a booter or something in that direction.

Whelp it's been a fun project but I guess I'm deleting it.

Did you not see the animation?

Updated to version two.

Fixed some stuff.
