Thread: Bought a new car.

Jay???? - November 24, 2015, 11:49 pm

My 2015 Audi A6 was totaled in a flood about two weeks ago. Just got the check back from the insurance company a few days ago, and went car shopping today.

I had already experienced a luxury sedan, i've had my share of trucks and whatnot, and I figured it was time for me to have a faster car.

So I went ahead and purchased this beauty: 2015 Chevrolet Corvette Stingray Fully Loaded

Let me know if you want any more pictures or information! I pick her up tomorrow after they clean her up for me (:

Chief Mark - November 24, 2015, 11:51 pm

Damn man, looks neat. Hope I will drive those cars later on.

Kinguin - November 24, 2015, 11:53 pm

Wow, such a sexy car! I love it

BoyInWhite - November 24, 2015, 11:57 pm

congratz dude
beautiful beast

Ahri???? - November 25, 2015, 12:01 am

3 days later it fish tails all over the place and OP crashes it into a tree.

Grim - November 25, 2015, 12:04 am

Not a fan of corvetts. but grats in the car anyway. Also that sucks about your audi those cars are so nice :(

WRX - November 25, 2015, 12:04 am

Not a huge corvette fan but they really are nice vehicles.

Enjoy your new whip!

Hotsauce™ - November 25, 2015, 12:10 am

This generation is by far my favorite... next to the C6.

Why did you but a Z06?!?!?

Probably because the next step up is $50k more?

Who Soup - November 25, 2015, 12:15 am definitely not a corvette fan. I'm glad you got a car that you liked though

Ma nigga, that's half a hunnid grand. You could buy a fully loaded evo x mr from a dealer with that kinda money.

Fiber - November 25, 2015, 12:18 am

Nice but a shame enjoying going in straight line. Cant wait until your turn off the traction control xD

Hotsauce™ - November 25, 2015, 12:19 am

A fully loaded Stingray is $75,000 from the chevy website.

A base Z06 is 80,000 ish.

Haha sorry If I had $75k to blow I would not go with the Evo platform or a corvette.

Ill get my self a gandfathered R34 legal in the US. Or even a MK4 supra.

Both of those are worth less than a new evo.

Edit- Mis read that... I need to go to bed.

Evo's are a poor mans GTR. And find me a R34 GTR road legal in the US that isn't $50,000+ . Not a GST/GTT converted into a GTR.

Innovative - November 25, 2015, 12:38 am

Congrats OP. It's kick ass, too bad we're not close or I would be itching to race you.

Jay???? - November 25, 2015, 1:00 am

A little bit more info, total cost ended up around 85,000 with title, dealer fees, etc.

This will be my everyday car, but we also have a 2014 Ford Fusion, and a 2015 Mercedes GLK. So i'm not too worried about the 2-seater aspect.

76ers - November 25, 2015, 1:01 am

You sir need to write an e-Book on how to succeed in life. lol

Fish_a - November 25, 2015, 5:48 am

theChive - November 25, 2015, 2:36 pm

Gorgeous car, but I think I would've gone with a coupe body instead of a convertible.

MonEy - November 25, 2015, 3:41 pm

Trillberto - November 25, 2015, 7:58 pm

God damn OP, best car I've seen on HF. Corvette's have been my favorite since I was a little kid and yours... I would lick your car.

Coton Pker - November 25, 2015, 8:01 pm them c7's are pretty cute cars :p they're not super comfortable to sit in (for me atleast, I'm 6'2") but the ZO7 are fuckin fast.

the base models are quick, and have a silly 7th gear for the highway so your fuel use isn't so bad.

J. McCarthy - November 26, 2015, 8:11 am

I hope you got a backup camera

They are like impossible to see out of backing up..

Manual or automatic?

Pretty sure almost all new corvettes come with something simple as a backup camera

Nice buy however I strongly disagree with the choice to get a corvette, but your preference pal

All 2015+ cars are required by the government to have back-up cameras... I believe.

I've been in Mercedes Benz that do not have backup cameras and are 2014/2015 models. Maybe USA built cars, I never heard that though.

Doubtful the more luxuries the car the more expensive basic features are

Ahh never mind you guys were just wrong my 2015 Duramax didn't have one either money.cnn.com/2014/03/31/autos/rear-facing-cameras/

They are required by 2018

Can you provide proof that this is your car? :)

webdev77 - November 26, 2015, 8:20 pm

I don't know why you'd ditch a fine piece of German engineering for an American made car, but good for you for having a nice car.

Oddissee - February 28, 2016, 8:31 pm
