Thread: People selling "money" making eBooks

Why do people do it?

When i first created an account, i bought many money making eBooks and they all made me a total of $0 dollars. I've learned to stay away from them, even if they promise me $1000000 per day.

Now it infuriates me when i see people selling them...knowing damn well everything in them is bullshit.

"Money making ebooks".. Its in the name. You recieve ebook, they make money :)

No , I dont make or sell ebooks.

People do it because they know that others want to make money quick. So selling them some method or whatever is just going to put money in their pocket.

I've bought useless eBooks, and some useful ones. There are good eBooks, just do your research on it before buying it.

I sell 1 eBook at the moment, the one in my signature, and I guarantee everyone earns their money back.

Look for an eBook with a guarantee, and some legitimate proof, not bullshit vouches from just friends.

Your eBook may be legit, but it's not even worth buying, lets be honest. Your earnings for the month of November are like, $15. I can find $15 in my couch cushions.

That's a lot of money for your couch. I would go do it, and then use it to buy my eBook! ?

jk anyway my shit is for poor kids on here, not the rich ppd cpa kids.

Everyone knows that if you have a good way of making money to not go and tell everyone else. Ebooks are basically an internet tax on the inept.

Everything on HF is a scam... people selling booters or ebooks don't teach you shit. They take your money to sell you shit. This is hackforums and most here either hack or scam your ass. Never trust any hackers or criminals on here.

It's their money making method for them... ?
