Thread: [Skype on the web! \[BETA\] Use Skype on your browser now \(bypassed Skype resolvers\)](#)

Zelix - December 9, 2015, 7:59 am

Hey guys,

Skype is now available on the web, so you won't have to download the Skype app anymore.

The link is;

Spoiler (Click to View)

<https://web.skype.com>

I use it a lot now, and it works great for me, enjoy.

how do you lioke this vs the actual skype app ?

?ing - December 9, 2015, 8:00 am

Love using this, always use it as college so I don't have to download Skype or anything. Works like a charm however for some reason some of my group chats that I'm in don't appear on the web client. Other than that its amazing.

It's a bit slower.

It has less features than the normal skype.

Also you have to install an addon for your browser to video chat.

You won't have to download the app anymore, it's actually the same, for me it works easier and it doesn't lagg my PC or something. Group chats work better for me too.

I heard skype resolvers will stop working on this next update on Skype or this current update.

The only thing that is saved is the IP's in the database on Skype resolvers.

Comparing the web client to the actual Skype application, which one do you prefer.

Apart from his spelling mistake this was pretty easy to figure out ?

It's already patched. And yes, the only IPs that are left are those from the databases.

That's good if you don't want to download Skype on the PC, Like computers in work/college/school... beside that I can't find reason to use this.

I know hahaha, but when I asked people I found out a lot of people don't know about it yet, so I made this thread.
