The following features I have discussed with experienced programmers, and I keep up with the latest papers as well and I send the ones I like to them. This will incorporate recent artificial intelligence research by Google and others into AI and chat generation/relevant string generation. If you're interested in reading the papers behind this, pm me ?

For each of these milestones, it will take a purchase of only one yearly key to make it go up a notch. That's exciting!!! Sell referral keys to speed development.

MILESTONES:

- [?] - Program released to the public; start BS2 port
- [] - Program ported to .NET and full features developed
- [] - Opt in program for machine learning data collection made (it'll save your chats into a db)
- [] - Neural machine learning algorithms implemented to make smartai bot with buyer prediction support
- [] - Smartbot improved and web interface made for offsite kik account managing/Skype/mobile support (aka: FINALLY NO DICK PICKS EVER!!!)

More info:

Spoiler (Click to View) Currently, if you send an initial message to 350+ people, this saves an hour in computer interaction time; only around 70% people reply, by my estimates, when asking to buy asap (my first message is a cutesy "hi would you like to buy?" in these studies). This does not include the time you save using hotkeys, as this is variable per person.

When the neural algo's are added, you will only need to respond to around 30%+ because it will weed out timewasters for you based on buyer behavioral/chat patterns.

I'm currently porting this program to C# so I can be able incorporate the features I have in mind in the coming couple months and significantly increase the speed of the program. Check back soon for an update.

For best results, do not change the size of the Bluestacks window. Try to put next to the top and left edges of your monitor for best results, but juuust not touching. These are the settings it was set up for.

The "In Chats" checkbox is only for macros that are to be used while inside of a chat, such as sending a long, repetitive paragraph with only a stroke of a keybind. You leave it unchecked when you want to go through a list of 200+ people in new chats. It's not meant to be used in the home screen as much. To send a live pic properly, send the picture you want to send to your own account first, and then it will be your top listing. Pikik is faster than the normal kik app for sending pics and was a reason I stuck with it, besides the dark color scheme. Pikik2 is required, and you need to set it to the salmon theme to work properly. 1920x1080 resolution is required for now. It may take up to 48 hours for us to take action on your payment. That doesn't happen that often at all, however.

Bluestacks v1 required but won't be shortly.

Go to your chat settings, and enable "Enter Key Send" and "Fake Camera (Caution!)" or a lot of stuff will be messed up.

Don't misuse this tool. You get more sales putting energy into a successful sale and being creative, not by spamming them to death. I tried a lot of tactics after developing this for personal use, and saturating our clients' feed with spam is a no go. Used properly, MacroMenu can be a great asset.

Currently the features missing from the full version are the ability to send live pictures. Here are the features I plan to add next:

Speed of typing/mouse movement adjustment setting (3 settings preferably)

A few other settings like that

In-program message room feature

Machine learning algorithms

Kik traffic adder

Skype version

My plan is by February to have this detecting individual message threads, read chat, store chats offsite, etc. The smartbot will reply to any number of situations it detects. I had this coded in originally but I had to scrap it originally. It'll have to require an opt in policy so I can scrape your threads and put machine learning algorithms in place to be able to read his messages and interpret what to do next (such as, noticing common phrases people use, any form of the phrase "yeah i have qwikpay" different tactics, etc. So you'll only get notifications when you absolutely need to be there, and, hell, it may even sell to a couple people successfully. You know how only <40% people who respond to you end up going anywhere? Imagine how much [that/i] tool would alleviate your work load. Spam vs smartbot, I wonder ?

Yeah, but how much do you make a night selling pictures of a girl who degraded herself just so you could make a few hundred dollars? You're cheap. This program is saving you so much fucking money. It saves you AT LEAST an hour of your day, GUARANTEED. It's guaranteed because I know how to use a damn calculator. 45 minutes is the LEAST you can save a day. Do you not value your time? How much money could you make ewhoring in an hour? Are you kidding me? You don't know how to make an investment to save your valuable time, or do you like seeing dick picks and repeating the same messages all the time repetitively? It's exhausting and disgusting. Cheap.

2ez4sol - December 22, 2015, 2:13 am

Ok I'm leaving an honest review, these isn't to sales trash or anything but an honest review, period.

To start, I was expecting something different. I don't do the type of ewhoring where I sell pics & vids.

I send cpa adult/dating offers for them to sign up.

First of all, these program isn't for me. But that doesn't mean that im asking a refund or anything since i have agreed that there will be no refund policy when I purchase these.

But it's still good that I have tested the bot, and it really has a potential.

Support is good because he always update me before.

And for me, well these isn't really a BOT, an autopilot where it will do everything for you. It's just a 1 time auto typer that will do the job if you're sending your first message to XXX of new chats, no more. Has also other button features such as block, delete, sending nudes type.

If you don't get what i mean, what i think these does is that you type a message like "Hi" and send it to 200 new chats then go pee or eat for a while then the bot will send your "Hi" message to 200 new chats then when it's done, that's it. It won't do anything after that.

So it's not the type of macro that the seller says that you don't have to nanny it. You still have to nanny it because after finishing the loop, what will it do next right?

Other thing is the STOP feature. If the bot is running and you decided to stop or hit CTRL Z, the macro closes so you have to login again everytime you stop it which is annoying (for me)

So overall, since you still have to nanny these macro and its just a 1 time message macro, there are still FREE tools out there that you can use that is way more better than these.

But just like OP said, there will be more updates/features in the future so we'll see.

These is my real review,
xbugitox

You weren't using it as intended and found a feature and a bug. I told you how to fix it but you insisted that it was a bug, when I didn't even code the program to send multiple messages, even if it was achieved with blank lines, in one loop instance. What does it do? It stops. Works fine. I've never had to nanny shit and that's why I made this bot. I had to nanny alternatives. You had to nanny it because you kept using it the wrong way, after I told you to stop sending messages formed like that.

1 time macro? I'm not sure 350+ messages, especially if your intro paragraph was as HUGE as yours was, is one time. That's an hour a day with only 350 messages, it isn't just going pee. It's playing a few games of cod, going to school, going to eat dinner, do homework, etc. It gives you your life back. Unfortunately you didn't want to change your strategy and would rather have spammed everyone at the onset, so even though it won't work for you, thanks for your honest review. I appreciate it.

It's 5 am dude.

You don't have to nanny? Ok here is a question, you only have a 50 new chats and you're lazy in manually sending them an intro so you decided to use MacroMenu in sending message.

So you added your intro on the message box then put a loop of 50 on the macro.

Then you start sending your message.

While sending you decided to go out with friends or went to buy food.

And the bot is done, but you're still out.

So tell me, what will the bot do after finishing the loop?

Will it do anything else?

Will the customers be responding the same message to do a loop again?

So if 1 customer ask you to send a preview will you add 1 loop just to do it?

And another customer ask for your paypal to pay you, will you still loop it?

Won't you be answering them yourself rather than using the loop?

Isn't that nannying? ?

And before I purchase your bot, I explained to you that I bought several bots before that doesn't support the method of my promotion because I send long messages.

I even showed you the message that I'm sending them.

and what did you say? The bot WILL still work as long as I can copy paste on bluestacks.

So if I'm using it the wrong way then it's not my fault since I already told that to you when I'm about to buy your macro and you're the one who said that it WILL work.

And like I told you, your macro is just a 1 time macro that only sends intro and you still have to nanny it. If not, then prove me wrong.

???? - December 22, 2015, 8:54 am

I see the difference in definition we are using - by nanny, I mean that you don't have to worry that it won't complete its function. I know how to make it expand beyond sending only one message, but you're talking about ai, which I have laid out in my milestones in the first page, and the only way you're going to have ai is if more people buy this and are interested.

So, no, it won't reply to everything automatically and carry conversations. It's not ai yet.

I'll work on your issue once ported to c#, which should be ready in a day or two.

Only 70% of people reply back anyways. I use this as a tool and I know what it can do, as you said in the message before that one. Thanks for clarifying.

AI is not the issue here. I understand the definition of nanny that you're talking about although I just want others to realize before they decided to jump in and buy your bot since there's no refund after purchase.

On post #37 you're pointing out that by using macromenu it would give them their life back or lessen their time in sending messages on XXX amount of new chats.

Well my other question is in what way would it make things easier to them besides sending an intro only?

By blocking? Mute? Sending nudes?

Like I said the only thing that is special that I see on macromenu right now is helping you out sending XXX numbers of new chats since that's where you can ONLY use best the loop feature. I don't see any other ways on using it besides that which other FREE macros can do it.

So let's say 70% of those new chats decided to respond on your intro message, what will macromenu offer to you or help you in order to answer those 70% back easily?

If your telling that they can be away while the macro is doing its loop, what if another ewhorer is already taking advantage of that customer and he/she is already selling packs/vids.

Wouldn't that be a waste of opportunity for another $$?

Why I tell that? Because 90% of ewhorer uses the same traffic source, so there's a big possibility that that will happen.

I'm not sales trashing your thread, im just pointing out those false answers that you're giving for the sake of others.

???? - December 22, 2015, 1:50 pm

Sure there are free options. I said I tried them, this is even based off of a free option. But if WoW includes macros, do you dismiss their helpfulness just because you can get a free third party addon? Of course not. Personally, the five other categories save me around 35 extra minutes in typing. Around half of the 70% I said earlier, I send at least two more auto messages with hot keys from the other categories. That's almost another hour I save a day. So yes, I consider it gives me my life back overall. 8 hours a month is pretty significant. The other 7 or so supplementary hours on top of that 8 are moreso making the job less stressful, alleviating my hands because they get really sore after typing for a while, etc.

False answers? That's the first time you've accused me of something that's bullshit.

I made this tool for me. I'm releasing it to the public as a courtesy because you all were literally BEGGING me for it. I didn't have to release it, but I did. False claims? People have seen me stream before and I have lots of other happy customers... Don't step over the line with that. Everything I've said is true from my perspective.

I'm sorry this bot can't spam large cpa messages for you.

Most of the "problems" you state are NOT because of my bot. Those are strategies of use. This is a supplementary tool. If you use it like a dumbass, you're still a dumbass. That's not my fault. I have a q/a about this on the website.

BaseGod - December 22, 2015, 6:43 pm

I did try it in sending a SMALL message without any spacing on it because that's the only thing that your bot supports unlike the message that im sending, and yes it does work.

But why are you ignoring the fact that it only helps you send 1 intro message on those XXX new chats and won't contribute anything more besides that.

That's also the ONLY important thing that you showed on your video besides the blocking.

So spending more than $10 a month with these, for me, isn't worth it.

There are more tools that can do more rather than your "bot".

Kindly answer my question, what can your "bot" contribute besides saving time sending intro message loops on new chats? ?

The hotkey is not even functioning.

Where & when will you use the loops of other tabs like

Quickpay lol, Selling Point, Send Email for Pay & Age - when not all of their response are the same.

(Dec 22, 2015 09:26 PM)2ez4sol Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The hotkey is not even functioning. Yes it is, don't lie in my sales thread.

(Dec 22, 2015 09:26 PM)2ez4sol Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Where & when will you use the loops of other tabs like Quickpay lol, Selling Point, Send Email for Pay & Age - when not all of their response are the same. How you use this tool is completely up to you. I can't tell you where and when to use these, because then this thread will turn into a "how to ewhore" guide. I have a tutorial compilation for that. This point is absolutely ridiculous. It seems like you're only disgruntled because you can't use the tool the way I intended.

(Dec 22, 2015 09:26 PM)2ez4sol Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) But why are you ignoring the fact that it only helps you send 1 intro message on those XXX new chats and won't contribute anything more besides that.

Kindly answer my question, what can your "bot" contribute besides saving time sending intro message loops on new chats? ?

I understand this bot is not worth it for you, but you don't have to be purposefully oblivious to things just because you cant use the tool to spam your CPA shit. I don't believe in spamming and I don't want this tool used in this way, but I can't control what you do with it.

I'm not going to list the features of my bot for the 5th time in this thread. Just because this is the only feature you have use for as a spammer doesn't mean other people don't see massive value/use with this tool. It's a TOOL. Your limits are your own. Don't blame me for these things.

Do you want to see a screenshot of the plethora of emails since July that made me release this tool? I've gotten a ton. I wasn't going to at first, you all begged me to. Sorry you're the only person here who doesn't agree.

(Dec 22, 2015 09:26 PM)2ez4sol Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) That's also the ONLY important thing that you showed on your video besides the blocking.

That video is LITERALLY a setup video for the people who can't read a sales thread or website.

It even says "How to USE"

You're just trolling at this point. Quit.

(Dec 22, 2015 09:26 PM)2ez4sol Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) There are more tools that can do more rather than your "bot".

And there are scientific calculators that are still outsold by 4 function ones who "can't even derive functions." Go use them. I made this for me. This is MY tool. I didn't make this to sell. I already tried those alternatives, which you're fucking lying about "they can do more" because I don't think you know the first fucking thing about coding a bot like this. How the fuck can they do more if I specifically made this FOR KIK? You're literally talking out of your ass because you can't sue this the way you want and you're sad about it. Go write your own and then you can come back and say that shit to my face. I even have a MILESTONES section for my bot's development. I'm not sure why you're trying to be a dick.

(Dec 22, 2015 09:26 PM)2ez4sol Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I did try it in sending a SMALL message without any spacing on it because that's the only thing that your bot supports unlike the message that im sending, and yes it does work.

It supports larger messages too, just stop putting http's in separate lines in one gigantic cancerous message.

high quality, well made product. this tool has made ewhoring a lot easier and much more efficient. if you are looking to save time, and increase profit, don't hesitate to buy

???? - December 24, 2015, 8:48 am

When the ai is released, I'll be sure to not have it trained on any conversations for you. You're obviously trashing my thread now with your bullshit about it only being able to loop. Then the fuck are the others for? Idc if it seems simple to you. I tried those. They suck. They inspired me to make this one. I made it. You didn't. Problem? Get the fuck out if my thread. Now you're starting to piss me off.

SuicideTheet - December 25, 2015, 11:40 am

I believe the product does what it says it does for the most part. I bought the product and had issues with it right from the get go, Toxy called me up on skype and tried to help, to no avail. I completely uninstalled bluestacks and reinstalled it. Nothing worked. Now he's stopped responding to my messages on skype and qtox and Im stuck with a non working program that I've paid cash money for, with no type of compensation due to a bullshit ass t.o.s.

???? - December 25, 2015, 3:42 pm

It's Christmas, I'm not sure why you want support ewhoring today. I've supported you as much as I possibly could. This is an error with bluestacks. You're better off posting it inside this sub forum, as someone else may have the same error of not being able to install pikik2 or some other app on bluestacks.

DoggyHF - December 26, 2015, 7:33 pm

Can this auto send live pics aswell? Or no

BaseGod - December 27, 2015, 4:24 pm

Uhh Toxy you still haven't sent me a Download link yet :/ It has been 3 days since you told me you would, and 6 days since I had purchased this. I am beginning to think I will not recieve this at all.....

???? - December 28, 2015, 11:22 am

It's no excuse, but it's been holiday season and I've been dealing with some personal and family issues. It made me a little depressed, but I'm fine now. That's no excuse to not getting it to you faster though. I gave you two and a half weeks more time than you paid for as consolation.

BaseGod - December 29, 2015, 11:45 am

Yes you did thanks for that, this program is actually really cool.

BITCOIN - December 30, 2015, 3:46 pm

I just purchased your pack. But I have not gotten an email to my payment email. please send this.

I have your paypal email and I will contact you on there. It would be a lot easier if you contacted me on Tox.

anybody got any sales with this automator

???? - December 31, 2015, 3:26 am

(Dec 31, 2015 04:07 AM)Valentino Rossi Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) anybody got any sales with this automator That's a ridiculous question. Have you ever gotten any sales with sending one message? CPA maybe. That has nothing to do with this tool.

That's like asking "are you a happier car mechanic by using this new brand of oil?"

That makes absolutely no sense. He doesn't care. He is a car mechanic; the new brand helps him change the car's oil, not do a whole tune-up.

Changing the car's oil isn't a whole tune-up. This is a tool. Not a complete automater - that would require robust AI. I'm in the planning stages of moreso assistance AI for this. It automates sending initial messages, blocking, muting, deleting, sending a live picture, and macro's as well. The macros are for your other category boxes - meaning, you should use it for sending one large message you usually send while chatting with one person, so you don't have to take the time copying/pasting from some .txt file, or typing a long message.

In time, I will add AI. This will take money and time.

The bot will be updated in 12 hours. It is ported to c#, supports changing resolutions, variable mouse speeds, and larger message support.

Yes, ez, this means you can finally use your cpa messages ?

Interested if anyone has made anything from this tool as well.

2ez4sol - December 31, 2015, 12:24 pm

Really dude? You're still going with that AI shit?

Dude, I assure you, you can't make that feature work!

You can't even make the bot work without any free will in clicking and typing by its self just like sc00by's bot.

sc00by's bot is being sold 1 time payment with a better feature that functions more accurately. With free updates.

And you're selling your bot overpriced and functions like shit.

I'm not sure if you're retarded or something the way you answer questions.

Why not just delete those posts just like what you did to my post then negative rep them just like what you did to me. Lmao!

But this isn't going to help you make more money, just help your work ethic... if you were bad at ewhoring before and buy this tool, you're still going to be bad at ewhoring. That's what I meant by the ridiculous part. Sorry for any confusion.

It's like asking: "hey, did you complete the new dungeon in WoW with the new addons that came out?" - it's not like the addons make or break the dungeon, like this doesn't make or break the sale... I'd be very surprised if you got someone to buy with just one message. So to answer, I never have. But neither have most people, except those who use CPA.

Sc00by, I'll answer with my own responses. I did answer him. The premise is still ridiculous - a car and a bike both get you from point A to B, one just faster and with more leisure, by no means more difficult or more simple.

Well they are just posting in a thread and offering criticism. You're just seeming like a dick. Not sure why you added the free updates part, I have free updates for the autotyper too.. You're just shilling at this point.

(Dec 31, 2015 01:24 PM)2ez4sol Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) free will in clicking and typing by its self just like sc00by's bot

I think someone's in over their head. No one is going to use a computational theory of mind to move a mouse. It is simply "moving from point a to point b" with some fancy movement algorithms in between to make the mouse cursor look like human mouse movement - if he went as far as to add that to add computational resources, I don't know. That's how mouse movement is done for everyone. I haven't bought it. Leave the machine learning and automation to people who know what the field is, kid. Go read some papers.

I've been keeping up with this ever since I read a paper on story generation a year ago; I've been following natural language generation since Google first released their conversation model around March/May of this year. Here's a couple papers over NLP that caught me eye at one point or another, by no means the best or most current ones of the bunch:

<http://arxiv.org/pdf/1506.05869v1.pdf> - this one is good for you to conceptualize, ez. This is most like the Google paper I mentioned. It has a working example.

<http://arxiv.org/abs/1508.04395>

<http://arxiv.org/abs/1510.08565>

To read this quick, scroll down halfway until you see the results or wherever they are.

I'm using better ones than these in my R&D right now, but you get the gist. If you can read it. Can't? Tough shit.

Not trying to sound cocky, I can't recreate half of these without some help from friends a few years ahead of me and some of the math is a bit funky, but you don't understand one thing about what I'm doing with this bot.

If you don't like it, go make your own. Stop crying in my thread about it, wasting your time writing replies that only let me add another sig to advertise in my own thread. This is my tool for my purposes. I don't care if no one else buys it. You're the only one who seems to have a bug up your ass around here. I really don't care.

I know you weren't, I know the difference. I outlined my confusion above.

It will be more capable of doing these tasks within the coming months.

going to buy so it weeds through the time wasters
