Hey,

If you're considering watching the film which stars the Old Spiderman Actor "Tobey Maguire" - If you don't know who he is Click Me! Otherwise scroll down for the poster of his new movie.

This Is A Movie within America, Taken Place In America; I'm not American but I just enjoy certain era's of the history it has a whole country.

If you know the story of Bobby Fischer and why his name will remain within a book of legends watching this may not be for you, although if you're intrigued on who this man is & why he's been a inspiration to the world then by all means watch it.

Settings:

- The story line Is based within the era of the WW's (I won't go into to much detail as it will spoil it).
- You see what a obsession/un-controllable focus can do to one personally (this also helps me refer to a time with a relative of mine).
- Secrets behind why Russia were always the superiors when it came to a specific piece (again without going into much detail).

Note: If I could have used the 2nd poster it would show you his brain exploding with chess pieces/moves, would give you a small input of what he was.

I would like to say however, if you're curious about Bobby Fischer, he passed away during 17th January 2008 (he was born March 9th, 1943 ; making him 65 when he died from a kidney failure).

I thoroughly enjoyed it, was a twisted ending but it just shows you what some things can do to a man.
