If you paid $5.99 the day I released, please stop being a BROKE CHARGEBACKER. I'm getting tired of this.

Granny Bacon - December 13, 2015, 5:38 am

I don't really like ebooks, but if you want, I can send you something via PayPal.

Lol amazes me when people chargeback for less than $10

CPA Exposé - December 13, 2015, 6:28 am

I suggest don't use autobuy unless BTC only.

Also, if you're accepting Paypal with autobuy, be prepared for a percentage of them to be chargebacks.

If your ebook doesn't work, expect that too.

Did you sell it through PayCore? If so, hmu with a PM.

reBELLYus - December 13, 2015, 7:22 am

People chargeback for small amounts like this? That is nerve-racking.

Was a paypal giveaway.

OT; Not sure why you posted this.

Atleast make it so users have to pm you with payment info to get the ebook.
That way you know who it is.

Walt Disney™ - December 13, 2015, 7:33 am

This will happen.

You didn't lose any money so stop whining. Pretend you never sold that copy.

I've been charged back like 20 times.

I've been chargebacked a lot as well, and I spent some of the money he chargeback so I lost a liitpe

DaUB3R - December 13, 2015, 7:52 am

Ahhh, the disadvantages of selling an ebook.

4 cents? I did not realize chargebacks could even have for that minuscule amount.
