Not cpa, not ppi, not shoutouts, not really anything you'll be able to guess aha. The ~$200 was from my 37k account and the other ~$700 was from using a method similar without needing an account. ?

yeah it's rediculous, I had a fully verified acc and they still limited it for whatever reason. I get my money from that acc in 2 months, been waiting 4...

hopefully I can cash these funds out to btc or something before the account gets limited lmao.

PS- anyone PM me if you have some good withdrawal methods ;D

Why would you sell the method, that makes you $900 in a day, here on HF?

in a day, here on HF?

Doesn't make $900 a day everyday.

I've made up to $1100 in 1 day from product sales.

I'd sell limited copies that would cost a lot.

Well, that would only make sense.

People when they sell methods obviously aren't making money from them otherwise they wouldn't sell the methods.

Some scam that gets run on idiots on Social Media using prepaid cards. People are actually getting busted for that shit. They trick people into thinking they can double their money with somebody and as soon as the idiots pay they get blocked. Impossible for someone to get their money back from the person after the scam is done.

How in the world you monetize with Instagram if you post any outside links or anything CPA related you get flagged instantly. I used to use an Instagram bot but they catch on very quick.

That's the thing, the things being sold that actually do make good money for not just the seller but other people are illegal.

If it's legal 99% the seller is full of shit if they claim to make anything more than $50 a day from it. The ebook marketplace is just a symptom of the plague that affects the internet marketing world. 99% bullshit.

Boxxy is 100% right.
