Thread: Rep Kill -> Rep Knockout \(RKO\)?

DustDice - December 13, 2015, 7:21 pm

I do believe Rep Knockout suits Rep Kill more. To "knockout" the green makes much more sense than to "kill". As well, RKO sounds much better than just RK. I think to get RKO'd is not satirical, but more practically should be a better representation of what it feels like to have all of your green reputation removed ;)

In all honesty, I hate rk Imfao. rf was much better.

Calcyon - December 13, 2015, 7:22 pm

The word "kill" offends me as I'm only 12 years old, so I agree it should be changed.

If you don't get this, read why Omniscient changed the name in the first place

The Supreme Gentleman - December 13, 2015, 7:22 pm

No. This is just stupid. ?

brian188246 - December 13, 2015, 7:23 pm

Omni already mentioned the string length of 'knockout' versus 'kill'

YayHar - December 13, 2015, 7:23 pm

RKO = Rep Killed by omni

Get wit the program

He didn't like the negative connotations that cursing had and he is trying to be more constructive and not cursing out members.

Yes, he wanted to tone down on the profanity, and keep it more professional.
Search up his threads.

From an onlookers point of view repfuck gives a bad impression to the admins and staff of HF. He found that a repkill would still be a negative term to a user however made the site slightly more professional.

DustDice - December 13, 2015, 7:34 pm

Rep KO for short? Eh? How does that sound?

Mavspammer - December 13, 2015, 7:37 pm

I smell a Randy Orton fan @ OP
