And because of how sophisticated particular software can be, and how smart the developers are. I truly find it interesting how people are capable of outsmarting companies and getting around their products.

Would like to teach it to me or maybe a group?

n3y4k0 - December 15, 2015, 10:37 pm

Yeah so what do you know about cryptography??

I reckon I haven't because I don't like the idea of selling a tool which hackers use maliciously and which could get me in trouble for developing somewhere down the line. If I did, it would be an obfuscator and would detect people trying to obfuscate malicious software.

I've always been interested in cyber security... I guess I'll have to wait to learn it in a few semesters.
