Thread: [Bullshit. All Bullshit. \[Might Quit E-Whoring... Again.\]](#)

Capo™ - December 16, 2015, 8:17 pm

It's becoming nearly impossible for me to e-whore now. Google and amazon and PayPal confiscating all of my accounts and limiting me from making any more. I've lost about $400 from these greedy dickheads and when I submit my kik for traffic on like 10 websites I get 20 messages max. This is getting to a ridiculous point of where I might just quit. The first time I quit was because I got too cocky and got lazy so I just stopped for a while. I really don't know what I should do now I'm really pissed off.

DiamondHacking - December 16, 2015, 8:18 pm

Just quit.

There's better ways to make $$ than E-whore.

Wtf are you doing? I've received so many payments from at least 500+ people so they got suspicious about it. Compromised my accounts for further research apparently.

Change it up and try your own shit, or try another IM venture entirely - the selling pics method isn't everything.

Take a day and look at everything that you were doing. Look at the successes and the failures and use that to develop your own method.

If you are only getting 20 messages, you've got to change the ads you are placing. Even the most "saturated" (I hate that word because i want to be on a saturated site because that's where the money is) sites should give you 20 to 30 messages each. Sometimes I get so many messages that I can't even answer them all.

And keep that money moving to keep Paypal or Amazon from getting it.

I'm not the best ewhore and I have been exactly where you are right now. But I decided to really focus and I'm seeing results. Give yourself a fair chance to succeed and if it still doesn't work, you can walk away knowing that you really tried.

This is an inspirational post. I tend to say a lot on the forums, but I'm glad someone else is saying similar stuff from their experience. Makes me feel good about my own judgements.

How do you use square to E-whore?

Surely people won't give you their card info?

limb3r - December 16, 2015, 11:29 pm

There has to be more payment options. My inability to use PayPal is what is stopping me from ewhoring, basically. Hmm, squareup looks interesting. How do you get them to swipe you credit? Looks like you need a physical terminal.

Mr Impact - December 17, 2015, 12:07 am

Well you got IP flagged so it's about that time to get a new ISP lmao sorry man. Should've been more safe out there <3

Wait how/why does amazon limit your account?

And can you get out of it?

(Dec 17, 2015 09:18 AM)Trenchguns Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Wait how/why does amazon limit your account? And can you get out of it?

Amazon limits accounts for suspicious fraud activity. Especially when someone redeems AGC obtained through stolen/fake credit cards or if someone decides to chargeback through bank after getting scammed.

PayPal has a very robust fraud detection system and it instantly limits an account for any kind of suspicious activity. Limitation resolves after you provide supporting documents as requisited by PayPal.

How can you get out of it? Well that is a debatable question and most of the users here will provide you BS info only. Tbh....there is no way out as you are running a illegitimate business and you must accept the fact that the money lost was never yours.

My providers all seem legit, and I guess if a card does go bad I can always say I buy my cards on like reddit gift card exchange.

I've already bought 1.2k worth of gc, and no problems so far

Lucky dude. Do not trust too much on providers as you just can't be sure about the people who sent those cards. I would advise you to practice caution and add this to your T&C that if in case a chargeback happens, seller is liable for any kind of loss that occurs because of that particular chargeback. But that's just my opinion, choice is yours. ?
