F.A.Q - Frequently Asked Questions

My PayPal Funds:

Information: My PayPal funds are extremely clean and are never from any sort of illegal or fraudulent activity, guaranteed. My PayPal funds are received by a direct bank transfer into my account and you'll receive the funds I give to you via PayPal Balance. I'll also never charge back and there is no worry about having funds come from "booters" or "ewhores"!

Any funds sent from me will be sent as "Goods and Services". I'm not responsible for any holds you encounter or fees that you're charged.

My BTC Funds:

Information: My BTC funds are gotten legitimately by selling products and services! Please note that when I send my BTC I can't reverse it so you're insured that you can't be scammed once you receive the BTC from me since it's non-reversible.

Rates and Changes:

Information: The rates displayed in the main thread/post are subject to change from transaction to transaction and might not always be the one pointed out in the thread, I'll let you know while we make out a deal what the rates will be.

Current BTC Value Calculation:

When placing an exchange request for either selling or buying BTC I'll be using Prevx to obtain the current BTC value. The formula in exchanges would then be $\text{Prevx} + \%$.

For any other crypto currency's I'll use a very trusted source and I'll make sure to check more than one, normally I'll use one from the official project's website that displays the market statistics.

I will add a USD $0.01-$1.00 fee on BTC, if you want the transaction to confirm faster, you must pay the custom fee you would like.

If you are selling me crypto currency you will be locked into the price you sold me it at, if it goes up you will not receive additional funds.

CHARGEBACK POLICY IF ANY CHARGE BACK OR DISPUTE HAPPENS TO ANY FUNDS, IF I WIN OR LOSE THE CASE YOU WILL NOT RECEIVE YOUR CURRENCY EXCHANGE (unauthorized)

I will be filing a scam report on this user, who has been given nearly 3-4 FULL days to refund me my money that I sent him to purchase rewards for me.

Given such a length of time to pay me back in the same form I paid him in, is fucking despicable.

Can provide proof of anything if needed..

Will update when resolved...

Edit: User told me my PayPal funds were pending. Asked for refund, user said he couldn't refund. Then he told me he could and avoided refunding me. Offered me $170 btc because that's all he had in stock and that he would pay me the rest at a later date. I didn't accept that deal and told him to refund me or pay the promised $600 btc. he was also responding fast when we were doing the deal now that he owes me he hasn't responded in almost 3 hours. ill give him a little longer before i dispute/scam report. seems like he just needed some quick cash and will come back in a few days with my money when its convenient for him. Now i have no choice but to wait till this guy feels like giving me my money back. Don't deal with this user.

Armada - April 1, 2018, 2:37 pm

OP is a complete and utter idiot to deal with.

I did a $75 Paypal to BTC exchange, which was made clear needed to be done instantly.

Op then claimed the funds were locked up by paypal and tried to blame me that the funds were not legit. Said it never happens to him otherwise.

OP THEN proceeded to advise me he constantly has this problem and complains paypal does it to him all the time.

When I requested the funds either be released or be refunded. OP literally stopped responding leaving me stranded with my family in the rain, knowing full well I needed the exchange to get home that night.

OP has Numerous Disputes, only when people complain hard enough does he bother to resolve them (Search his UID in Dispute section for all the proof you can need)

Only AFTER I was forced to open a Deal dispute did OP even bother to address it, and in attempt to resolve refuses to provide a FULL REFUND, despite the inconvenience and breaking our agreement to do an instant conversion.
