There are plenty of ways to find admin panel .. have you tried them all?

- 1- Havij ,
- 2- Google :D
- 3- and here is the python script for finding admin panel `dl.packetstormsecurity(dot)net/UNIX/utilities/AdminpageFinder.py.txt`) download and run it using terminal !!

Have you tried putting `/robots.txt` after the URL?

Example:

www.example.com/robots.txt

try to get user() then go to the cpanel and try to login using user() result and password of admin
some times it works :)
or try ftp server

Try dirbuster to find a possible admin page, do some recon on the framework of the website and determine its CMS, Web Server, and OS.

Additionally, while you may have the username and password; you could run into problems if the admin portal or page is configured to only have access within the local intranet of the network the server is hosted on.
