Thread: [\[Help\] Configuring Imminent Ports Forward](#)

kpr1337 - December 21, 2015, 1:37 pm

Someone can to help me with Ports ?

I don't know how to learn my PORT.....

I just watched at all videos on YOUTUBE and doesn't work

I installed my router on my pc correctly and I haven't the option to put a PORT in my router settings.

Can someone to help me ?

The brand of router is : tehnicolor and my ip is static

Visit this site, <http://portforward.com/> . Look up your model and follow the instructions.

I entered in cmd and I wrote netstat -an and than I put my port 445

I checked the port 445 on portforward and is working but when I add the port in Imminent Monitor tell me this :

I used all ports from netstat -an and i have the same error xD and shockwave is always offline

I suggest you use a port with 5 digit like 32105, not 3 or 4.

You say your IP is static, but do you talk about your local ip (often something like 192.168.0.xxx) or your external ip ?

If i put 127.0.0.1 and port 9003 the RAT is working for me but i want to configure for remote control ! .

Someone can to give me a tutorial ? I watched all videos from ytb and dont work !

If i am connected via wirless is some wrong?

You told me? Stop acting as if I'm retarded because clearly that ain't your router model but brand.
So if you want help, post your router model.
